40 Killed, Scores Hurt As Tornado Hits Georgia

STORM CUTS

THRU COUNTY

Million-Dollar Property
Loss Reported; Many
Are Homeless

CORDELE, Ga., April 2.—(UP)—Cutting a three-block swath entirely through the city of Cordele, a tornado today killed at least 40 persons, injured scores and caused $1,000,000 property damage.

Major Usher Winslett, in command of the Cordele unit of the national guard, which was called out, said 10 white persons and 30 Negroes were killed.

Hundreds were without homes as the storm smashed the lane for about seven miles through Crisp county and Cordele.

The city stadium was turned into a hospital to aid in caring for the injured. Ambulances rushed others to Macon and Americus for treatment.

Rescue Workers Sent

The American Red Cross dispatched disaster workers to the stricken city. Gov. Eugene Talmadge stood ready to give any aid needed. Sheriff J. H. Pitts of Crisp county, indicated he may ask for national guardsmen.

The tornado here was the worst of a series of storms that swept the South. Concord, N. C., was struck by a tornado today, with $100,000 property damage resulting. First check did not indicate anyone was injured seriously.

Another storm struck last night near Athens, Ga., in northern Georgia, causing about $5000 damage and killing some cattle. No loss of life occurred, according to first reports.

Power lines were down in Cordele and the city was without power.

Residential Section Hit

The storm here struck its worst blows at a residential section and at a Negro district about an equal number of whites and Negroes were killed, it was reported.

Two schools—the grammar and high schools—were demolished.

Mrs. Pitts, wife of the sheriff, said the scene of destruction was terrible, with many homes reduced to kindling.

"The storm swept clear through the town but it did not hit the business section," she said. "Houses were flattened and the dead and injured are being removed."

It was difficult to learn the names of the dead, but among the first listed as dead were Mrs. Minnie, wife of a Baptist preacher, Bill Brownell and Mr. and Mrs. Vivian Hyman.

After smashing through this city of approximately 7000, the storm also struck a little settlement, Penia, five miles east of here. It was reported that great damage was done there also.

It was reported five or six persons sought refuge in a brick store on the outskirts of Cordele. The store was destroyed and those in it were killed.

VERA STRETZ MUST FACE MURDER COUNT

NEW YORK, April 2.—(UP)—Vera Stretz must face the possibility of death in the electric chair when a jury late today or tomorrow deliberates the charges against her for the killing of Dr. Fritz Gebhardt, her German lover.

Judge Cornelius F. Collins today denied all defense motions, including one to throw out ten first-degree murder charges against her and confine the jury to counts of second-degree murder or manslaughter.

Gas Prices Are
Hiked Two Cents
Per Gallon Here

Major oil companies operating in Santa Ana today boosted prices of gasoline two and a half cents on third structure fuel and two cents on standard and ethyl grades.

According to local service station operators, independent companies were expected to follow the lead of the major companies in boosting gasoline prices.

Retail gasoline prices now are 17.2 cents for third quality gasoline, 17.4 cents for standard grades, and 17.6 cents for ethyl.

FRANCE DENOUNCES HITLER PROPOSAL

DENIES CHARGES

Edward J. Margett (below) San Francisco area manager for the Townsendites, declares politics was behind the 20-year-old indictments against him, which were introduced yesterday at the House committee investigation of old age pension plans. Margett says his slate is clean and that besides giving his full time to the movement, he is "thousands of dollars out of pocket" as a result of his activities.

PENSION PAPER
GROWTH SHOWN AT HOUSE QUIZ

WASHINGTON, April 2.—(UP)—The mushroom growth of the Townsend Weekly from a $250 investment to the point last year when it was paying $500 to $600 weekly was described before a house inquiry today by Robert E. Clements, resigned Townsend leader who shared the profits with Dr. F. E. Townsend.

As the house Townsend committee inquired deeper into the financial workings of the old age pension movement which received contributions estimated at close to $1,000,000, Clements described the founding of the newspaper which was owned jointly by himself and Townsend.

The weekly, he testified, was preceded by a publication called the "Modern Crusader," edited at Long Beach, Calif., by C. J. McDonald.

McDonald split with Clements and Townsend and the new publication was started. Clements denied allegations by McDonald that Townsend "stole" the circulation list of the "Modern Crusader" in order to get the Townsend Weekly started.

Committee Counsel James R. Sullivan brought out that although circulation statements in 1935 showed a weekly sale of 100,000.

ETHIOPIANS CLAIM
DECISIVE VICTORY

ADDIS ABABA, April 2.—(UP)—Ethiopia claimed a major victory today in a battle already reported by Italy on the northern front.

An official communique issued at general headquarters said that in the battle fought north of Lake Aschangi, Ethiopians captured four fortifications and killed 700 white Italian soldiers, 35 officers and 2000 Eritreans were killed. Ethiopian loss were put at 837 killed and 335 wounded.

April 2.—(UP)—A battle in which Italy claimed complete victory over an Ethiopian force commanded by Emperor Haile Selassie was described in detail today.

It was said the Ethiopians lost 15,000 in killed and wounded, and that 7000 Ethiopian dead were counted on the field.

BORAH FORCES

Voters Pick Candidates
For Places on Nation's Largest Delegation

ALBANY, April 2.—(UP)—Borah for-President forces fought for a nationally important foothold in New York today as voters went to the primary polls to select delegates to the Republican National convention.

The fight of 17 Borah candidates for places on the nation's largest delegation completely overshadowed the Democratic primaries, the dustiest in many years.

The regular Republican leadership, advocating an unpledged delegation, predicted an overwhelming victory over the forces supporting U. S. Senator William E. Borah of Idaho for president.

Borah delegates opposed unpledged candidates in nine districts.

Former Republican State Chairman W. Kingsland Macy, Congressman Hamilton F. Fish, Jr., and William Ziegler, Jr., leading the Borah movement, remained confident, however, as voters marked ballots.

Besides the nine districts where there are Borah-Regularity contests, unpledged delegates with Borah leanings sought designation over organization candidates in the 11th and 16th districts.

The Borah leaders, it was understood, refrained from nominating candidates in several upstate districts, because they felt that some of the organization candidates were not finally opposed to Borah.

State Chairman Melvin C. Eaton, who returned to his Norwich home after a California vacation, felt that the entire delegation of 90 would go to Cleveland unopposed.

The huge Democratic delegation, of course, will go to the Philadelphia nominating convention pledged to President Roosevelt.

Even as the balloting began, belief prevailed in neutral Republican circles.

SUPREME COURT TO GET LOBBY PROBE

WASHINGTON, April 2.—(UP)—The senate lobby committee is preparing to take to the supreme court its fight for the right to examine private telegrams in its investigation of the so-called utility lobby, the house rules committee was informed today.

Democratic Floor Leader John Bankhead, D. Ala., appearing before the committee in support of the plea of Sen. Hugo Black, D. Ala., for permission to spend $10,000 a year for a committee attorney, said:

"It is imperative that ample consideration for the senate committee's attorneys be provided, as this case is going to be carried to the supreme court."

Two injunction suits seeking to prevent the committee from subpoenaing telegrams from Western Union and Postal Telegraph Co., have been filed.

YOUNG AL SMITH'S
PLAN HELD LOTTERY

WASHINGTON, April 2.—(UP)—Alfred E. Smith Jr., wearing a reddish necktie, a bashful grin, and a gray fedora, walked into a postoffice department hearing today to hear his Golden Stakes contest characterized by federal counsel as a lottery and a fraud.

Smith, who appeared not more than 25 years old, smoked a cigarette and nervously brushed back his pompadour while Calvin W. Hassell recited the government's charges against the send-a-dollar picture contest of the Golden Stakes Advertising Corporation. Smith is vice-president.

Hassell charged that the Golden Stakes organization sold tickets for a dollar each "well knowing" that the ticket buyers thought they were purchasing lottery tickets instead of chances to enter a cartoon guessing contest.

STONE TO DIE CORPORATE TAX FOR DEATH OF
FRESNO GIRL INDUSTRIALISTS

SAN FRANCISCO, April 2.—(UP)—Elton M. Stone, 31-year-old slayer of Mary Stammer of Fresno, must die for his crime, the state supreme court said today in affirming the death sentence of the Fresno county courts.

The state's highest judicial authority said that after reading Stone's confession to shooting the studious young daughter of a prominent Fresno attorney, there was no doubt in the minds of the jurists that the defendant had been guilty of a premeditated murder.

Stone's sentence came before the supreme court on an automatic appeal, required by a new state law in all cases in which no jury trial has been held.

The condemned man, now in death row at Folsom prison, pleaded guilty to first degree murder Jan. 27.

With the appeal disposed of by today's court action, it was considered likely Stone would be put to death within the next two or three months.

Supreme court officials explained the record of his case must be returned to Fresno county, where the county superior court will set the date for execution. Such procedure usually takes about 60 days it was said.

Mary Stammer, 14-year-old schoolgirl, was shot and killed while reading in a room of the WASHINGTON, April 2.—(UP)—The National Association of Manufacturers launched a bitter attack today on President Roosevelt's corporate profit tax plan, charging it was economically unsound, would injure labor, increase bankruptcies, and encourage monopoly.

The stand of the powerful organized industrial group was explained at a house way and means committee hearing on the budget tax measure by Noel Sargent, secretary of the association.

Sargent proposed that congress name a special commission to determine possible changes in present tax policies, deferring at this time action on the $600,000,000 corporate profits tax plan which he said would stimulate speculation, "penalize industrial thrift, and amounts to nothing but a new share-the-wealth proposal in disguise."

Sargent said the plan would penalize industrial reinvestment, reduce the working capital of corporations, tend to deplete the value of industrial bonds, intensify booms as well as depressions and result in older companies with large revenues being given such an economic advantage that they could drive their weaker competitors out of business.

The proposed tax is designed to encourage industry to pay out its earnings in dividends instead of amassing huge reserves. The method would be a tax on undistributed

CLAIMS OFFERS
FAIL TO MEET
PEACE PROBLEM

Trouble Threatened If Hungary Follows Military Example of Austria

PARIS, April 2.—(UP)—France denounced Germany's proposals for European peace consolidation as utterly inadequate today. She pressed for joint French-Belgian-British general staff consultations and a meeting of the Locarno powers to consider action.

The foreign office received a letter from the British foreign office, authorizing the start of conversations between the army general staffs.

Conference Scheduled

Foreign Minister Pierre Etienne Flandin summoned the principal French ambassadors in Europe to Paris for a conference tomorrow. They will consider the German proposals.

It was expected that a cabinet meeting would be called as the result of a conference between Flandin and Premier Albert Sarraut.

The government wants to make sure that Germany's proposals do not interfere with general staff conversations on a plan of mutual French-Belgian-British action in event Germany attacks France or Belgium, or with a conference by French, British, Belgian and perhaps Italian diplomatic chiefs on joint political action.

French leaders denounce the German proposals as failing to answer their question on specific European problems, as misinterpreting the Locarno treaty history, as offering no real collective security plan for eastern or central Europe.

MRS. GLAB STARTS
TERM FOR SLAYING

LOS ANGELES, April 2.—(UP)—Hazel Belford Glab, convicted husband-slayer, and two other women were taken to Tehachapi prison today to start serving terms.

Mrs. Glab is under sentence ranging from 6 1/2 years to life for the murder of John L. Glab and for forging the will of the late Albert L. Cheney, elderly capitalist whose $400,000 estate she sought.

Her companions were Mrs. Mabel Frances Willis, convicted of manslaughter in the hammer-slaying of Dr. Walter E. Hammond, her elderly paramour, and Mrs. Berbie Brockman, sentenced for an attempt to poison her son-in-law, James Burnett, last Jan. 2.

NEW LABOR GROUP TO AID ROOSEVELT

WASHINGTON, April 2.—(UP)—Labor's counterpart to big business' American Liberty League was launched today in a new organization titled "Labor's Non-Partisan League."

George L. Berry, New Deal coordinator for industrial cooperation, heads the new organization designed to organize labor support for President Roosevelt's re-election.

Whether the organization would be continued beyond the 1936 campaign was not revealed, but Berry said he would not be "surprised" if it were. John L. Lewis, United Mine Workers' president, one of the organization, has been mentioned in labor circles as a possible presidential candidate in 1940.

Denounce Japan's
Version of Battle

MOSCOW, April 2.—(UP)—Outer Mongolia, claiming a decisive victory in a two day battle with Japanese-Manchukuoan forces, denounced today as "shameless lies" Japanese versions of the fighting.

Mongolian officials, said a dispatch from Ulan Bator, capital of the republic, charged that Japanese army leaders were deliberately trying to create a false impression, not only in the outside world but in Japan, in order to influence popular opinion.

"MYSTERY" MAN

A grand jury investigation of Paul Wendel's (below) "confessions" in the Lindbergh kidnapping case today continued to hold the key to the fate of Richard Bruno Hauptmann scheduled to die at 8 p. m. Friday for the kidnap-murder. New lines of inquiry were opened in the jury quiz today, making it probable that the death hour may again be postponed.

PROBE CHARGES
CONFESSION OF WENDEL FORCED

NEW YORK, April 2.—(UP)—District Attorney William F. X. Geoghan of Brooklyn announced today that a "searching investigation" was being made into charges that Paul Wendel, disbarred Trenton lawyer, had been kept prisoner in a Brooklyn house and tortured into making a confession, later repudiated, that he kidnapped Charles A. Lindbergh Jr.

Geoghan stressed that he was not interested in the truth or falsity of the alleged confession, but simply wanted to determine whether a crime had been committed against Wendel.

The district attorney said one of his assistants, William F. McGuinness, a stenographer and a county detective, visited Wendel in the Mercer county jail yesterday.

Wendel told McGuinness, Geoghan said, that he was about to enter the hotel Stanford in Manhattan on January 14 when a man approached and told him "De Louie wants to see you at headquarters."

Wendel identified "De Louie" as a Trenton detective.

"Another man behind him pressed a gun against him, according to his story," Geoghan said. "He was ordered into a car parked near the hotel. He said there were four men in the car."

Then, according to Wendel's story to McGuinness, he was driven to a place near Coney Island where he was held prisoner for 10 days "and tortured into making a confession."

Wendel, Geoghan said, was certain he could identify the house where he was imprisoned.

URGE COLONIES TO SAFEGUARD AGED

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., April 2.—(UP)—Colonies for the protection of aged persons from reckless automobile drivers were advocated today by Thomas Bell, a retired engineer.

Bell said he expected to begin at once to organize the entire nation in support of his project. He plans to establish small communities throughout the country, and to prohibit automobiles from being used on the streets of these towns in which residence would be restricted to persons over 60.

"Most of the people being killed by autos are old people," Bell said. "The only way to save their lives is to keep them away from automobiles. You can't keep the autos away from them."

Hauptmann Likely to Get

Checks on Wendel

BULLETIN

TRENTON, N. J., April 2.—(UP)—Gov. Harold Hoffman and Attorney General David T. Wilentz debated for the life of Bruno Richard Hauptmann for four hours today before the Mercer county grand jury. The scope of the Lindbergh kidnapping inquiry has widened so far that it was freely predicted Hauptmann again would escape execution, now set for 8 p. m. Friday.

TRENTON, N. J., April 2.—(UP)—Bruno Richard Hauptmann's chances of escaping the electric chair tomorrow night increased rapidly today as the Mercer county grand jury opened new lines of inquiry and sifted new clues in its consideration of the Lindbergh baby murder.

Gov. Harold G. Hoffman, who believes Hauptmann did not commit the crime alone, was the first of several new witnesses to go before the grand jurors, indicating that their investigation might extend far beyond 8 p. m. Friday, the time set for Hauptmann's execution.

There was no official word from the jury as to how far it would inquire into the murder and the case of Paul H. Wendel, who wrote and then repudiated a confession to the crime.

Jury To Be Busy

But with the appearance of the governor to urge that the mystery be solved before Hauptmann is put to death; with the preparations of Attorney General David T. Wilentz to go before the jury in opposition to any such delay; and with reports that Dr. John R. (Jafie) Condon, who paid over $50,000 ransom to the kidnaper just four years ago today, would be called, there was every indication that the jury would be unable to complete its inquiry before the hour set for Hauptmann's death.

Dilenz, Superintendent of State Police H. Norman Schwarzkopf and Hunterdon County Prosecutor Anthony M. Hauck made every effort to force the grand jury to drop the murder charge placed against Wendel and thus permit Hauptmann to go to the electric chair this week.

Political Tangle

But so heavy was the tangle of political animosities, so powerful was the momentum of sensational developments that it appeared only drastic action could force the jury

RESIGNATION OF FARLEY DEMANDED

WASHINGTON, April 2.—(UP)—Rep. Fredrick E. Lehbach, R., N. J., introduced today a resolution demanding that the house ask President Roosevelt to request James A. Farley to resign either as postmaster general or as chairman of the Democratic National committee.

Lehbach defended his resolution on the floor amid Republican applause.

The resolution said, "It is offensive to American political traditions and subversive of principles of sound government to permit the holding of both posts during an election year."

Shadow Boxer Is Knocked Dead In Imaginary Fight

NEW YORK, April 2.—(UP)—Frank Vasquez, 18, died today, felled by an imaginary adversary in his favorite pastime of shadow boxing.

Frank left his home last night with his best friends, Christopher Bongolia, 19, and William Calameras, 19, who live a block away. Returning shortly after midnight, Frank crouched in his favorite fighting posture and jabbed an imaginary foe.

"Watch the footwork," he told his friends as he weaved, feinted and swung mighty blows. The footwork was fine until one foot slipped on the wet paving and he fell heavily. His friends thought he was feigning a man knocked out but when Frank didn't rise they lifted him, then called an ambulance. He died at the hospital.

"He said his captors told him they wanted him to sign a confession to the kidnapping of the Lindbergh baby," the district attorney said. "He said they told him they were the mob that got rid of Judge Crater and a couple of others. He said they told him the way they did it was to kill a fellow, put his body in a barrel of cement and after it hardened take the barrel and body and dump them in the river. He said they took the manacles off from time to time and strung him up by his thumbs on a board leaning against the wall with his arms outstretched and chains on his ankles.

"Wendell said they punched and kicked him and took lighted cigarettes and placed them close to the corner of his eyes. After one week of the torture, at his dictation, Wendell claims he drew up a confession in longhand which he signed. The confession was deemed unsatisfactory and he says he was forced to make another.

"On February 24, Wendell said, he was taken by two men in an automobile to the home of Ellis Parker in New Jersey."

WATER LEADERS URGE CAUTION ON FLOOD PLAN

Interested in seeing the Santa Ana river dam located at Jurupa, because they would get the benefits of absorption. We must watch the program carefully to see that we are protected. The Jurupa reservoir would have a storage capacity of 60,000 acre feet of water, and would not give Orange county the required amount of flood control necessary. For that reason, I don't believe the army engineers would approve the Jurupa site. Flood control for Orange county could be better accomplished at the Prado site, where there is a storage capacity of 130,000 acre feet. I think the matter of the damsite should be left open. Who would control the water is another matter of utmost importance, and should be considered carefully.

Col. S. H. Finley, Santa Ana's representative on the Metropolitan Water District board of directors, said he wishes to study the program further before making public comment. W. H. Spurgeon, former president of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, who was active in the last water bond election, said he feels the same way.

A. W. Rutan, known water attorney who is consulting attorney for the Orange County Water District, said that "we should be careful to have the flood control works placed where they would do Orange county the most good." He suggested that the Prado damsite would be better to Orange county's advantage.

"I think we should have a hearing conducted here by the army board of engineers before any program is started in Orange county," Rutan said, "and before this hearing is held we should have our data carefully and completely ready." He pointed out that the army engineers held a similar hearing in Los Angeles this week on a Los Angeles and San Gabriel river flood control project, declaring that a similar hearing should be held here.

Secretary C. A. Palmer of the Orange County Water District, said: "As far as I am concerned, I prefer the Prado damsite to the Jurupa damsite. We must get the water down here to help replenish the underground basin. I do not believe in permitting further spreading of water in the upper counties."

Water authorities here agree that the project now under consideration in Washington is based on the report made by the president's technical committee, with most of the plans taken from State Bulletin 19. When this report was made public here some time ago, the Orange County Water District opposed it on the basis that it was not to the advantage of Orange county.

Passage of the bill in the senate which includes the Santa Ana river project, is almost certain, according to Congressman Collins, who said it probably will be given congressional approval. The congressman said that while under the present plan the Jurupa dam is tentatively provided for, army engineers in making a complete new survey, may locate the dam at some other site.

Because there are provisions for extensive water spreading in the upper reaches of the Santa Ana river, many local water authorities

PENSION PAPER GROWTH SHOWN AT HOUSE QUIZ

000 copies, only from 15,000 to 20,000 were "actually paid."

"It was not philanthropy," Clements remarked, "because we felt it was a valuable way to disseminate information on the movement."

Clements said that he, Townsend and Clyde Doyle, Long Beach attorney, founded the Prosperity Publishing Co., which published the Townsend Weekly in Aug. 1934, as a private corporation.

"Then Doyle was a straw man or dummy?" Sullivan asked.

"Yes, if that's the proper legal term," Clements replied.

The company was started without any investment and 25,000 shares of no par capital stock were issued.

Clements said Doyle got none of the stock but Townsend held 10 shares, himself nine and Frank G. Terrell, a Los Angeles attorney, received one share for his aid.

Clements denied the old age pension movement financed the Townsend Weekly.

Clements estimated only $250 was "put into" Prosperity Publishing Co. by the incorporators in fees.

He said the weekly started with 15 employees. F. J. Elgin, headed the staff with a weekly salary of $30.

"I feel sure the income at that time (March 1935) was not over $500 to $600 weekly," Clements said.

"If you charge three cents a copy, why wasn't it $3,000?" Rep. John B. Hollister, R., Ohio demanded.

"Because most of it was charged on the books," Clements said. "Up to last October, about 1,200,000 copies were printed but had not been paid."

Questioning by Sullivan revealed that state area managers of the OARP were getting one cent out of each three cents for which the weekly sold.

Clements told the committee that Rep. John Steven McGroarty, D., Calif., ordered 3,500 extra copies of his Townsend plan bills from the government printing office.

Clements said his organization "reimbursed" McGroarty by paying the printing bill.

The copies were sent free to Townsend clubs.

Rep. Joseph A. Gavagan, D., N.Y., then charged:

"Members have no right to use the privilege for a private organization outside their own constituency."

Clements promised to bring in data next week on the Townsend Weekly's payroll.

"Is your advertising 99 per cent for selling products to aged people?" Sullivan asked.

"No," Clements replied. "It is true there are some advertisements of patent medicine."

"Did you know patent medicine pays the highest rates?" Sullivan asked.

"No," he said. "I know some that pay higher."

"What are they?" Sullivan demanded.

"Political and circus," Clements said he "passed on" advertising copy and rejected some.

"I don't believe that the money received from patent medicine was any appreciable source of the paper's revenue," Clements said.

"Whose influence forced those ads into the paper," Chairman C. Jasper Bell, D., Mo., demanded.

"Was it Dr. Townsend?"

"No," he said. "It was against our wishes and they were taken out."

"Isn't it a fact, Dr. Townsend's medical reputation was a factor in these ads by the fakers," Bell asked.

Sullivan read advertisements from the paper.

One had a headline saying: "Married at 120."

The text of the ad said it sounded "too good to be true."

Another, addressed to "All Townsends," told:

"How to live to be 100."

Clements said he ordered a strict ban on all advertising of rejuvenation potions, gland treatments and the like.

NEW YORK, April 2.—(UP)—When three gunmen invaded Louis Farraro's home at the height of a party, Farraro tossed a billfold containing $345 to his pet monkey. The monkey grabbed the wallet and leaped for a window, but a bandit caught him. The monkey bit the bandit's hand, but the bandit hurled him against a wall and he dropped the billfold.

The gunmen got $35 in cash and $300 worth of jewels from Farraro's guests, plus Farraro's $345. The monkey got an extra banana today, nonetheless.

HAUPTMANN'S LIFE DEBATED BEFORE WENDEL CASE JURORS

to bring its inquiry to an end tomorrow.

Whether Hoffman, under such circumstances, would issue another reprieve was uncertain, but Head Keeper Mark O. Kimberling of the state prison, has announced he will delay execution until Saturday or Sunday if necessary unless the grand jury has reached a decision before then.

Federal investigators made their first appearance in the case when Edward C. Dougherty, Philadelphia district supervisor of the alcoholic tax unit of the Pennsylvania, appeared at the state house and made available records concerning the activities of Wendell from March to November, 1932.

Dougherty was the first federal officer to appear in the case although there have been reports the department of justice is investigating Wendell's charge he was kidnapped in New York and tortured.

Records on Wendell

Wendell said the records show that in March 1932, about the time of the abduction of the Lindbergh baby, Wendell allegedly was under the alias Christ Narr and connected with a company which was negotiating for construction of a huge still near Scranton, Pa. The plant was seized before the still could be put into operation.

The exact significance was not disclosed but it was inferred that a man involved in a project of that magnitude would not have had time for a kidnapping at the same time.

Hauk, meanwhile, charged Hoffman with attempting to block his investigation of an attack by five men yesterday on the caretaker at the Lindbergh home in the Sourland mountains—scene of the kidnapping.

Governor Hoffman testified for an hour and 15 minutes.

Upon completing his testimony Hoffman, with guards holding back everyone who attempted to speak to him, drove away in his automobile.

Carries Long Statement

Wendell carried a long typewritten statement but declined to say what it is as he entered the grand jury room. It was believed to have been prepared after his conference with Hauk, Schwarzkopf, and Lieut. Buster Keaton and Capt.

John Lamb of the state police. They were the men whose investigation led to Hauptmann's arrest.

Both Wilentz and the governor refused to make any statement.

Asked about another reprieve, Hoffman said:

"I have no statement to make."

Wilentz said the typewritten paper he carried was an important statement which he would give out as soon as he completed his testimony.

Arthur Koehler, Madison, Wis., wood expert who testified at the Hauptmann trial, was in Trenton. He said he would not be surprised "if the whole case is thrown wide open again."

Condon Is Silent

Dr. Condon said at his home in the Bronx, New York City, he had not received a subpoena from the grand jury. He declined to say whether he would go to Trenton and testify before the grand jury if requested.

Hoffman said later he offered to go back any time and tell the grand jury anything he could.

"Isn't the Lindbergh case busted open again?" he was asked.

The governor grinned.

"It's been busted open for about four years," he replied.

In reply to Hauk's charges, Governor Hoffman said:

"If he (Hauk) comes to me, I'll tell him why I took the records."

Wilentz and other members of the Hauptmann prosecution have been studying law books relating to conspiracy indictments apparently in furtherance of their investigation into Parker's connection with the case.

"You can bet your bottom dollar that we're looking into Parker's activities," said one of the conferees.

The Rev. John Mattiesen visited Hauptmann early this afternoon. The prisoner asked what the grand jury was doing and was disappointed when the minister could give him no definite information.

Matthiesen said Hauptmann spent a good night and was in good spirits.

Mrs. Anna Hauptmann went into the prison at 1:25 p. m. to visit her husband. If Hauptmann should be executed on schedule tomorrow night, this would be her last visit.

AL SMITH ASSURED OF CHANCE TO "TAKE A WALK"

NEW YORK, April 2.—(UP)—Former Gov. Alfred E. Smith was assured today of at least the chance to "take a walk" from the Democratic national convention, as he intimated recently he would like to do if President Roosevelt is nominated.

Administration Democrats had planned to fight to keep Smith from being elected a delegate to the Philadelphia convention in today's primary, but the plan collapsed when an election board threw the New Deal candidate off the ballot.

Smith was consequently unopposed for election as a delegate from the 11th congressional district, composed of the lower end of Manhattan borough and all of Staten Island.

$224,168 FOR RELIEF SPENT HERE IN MARCH

The federal government expended a grand total of $224,168.19 in Orange county during the past month for relief and works programs, it was learned today from officials of the SRA and WPA.

Works Progress Administration expenditures for the month of March aggregated $166,362.87. A drop of about $11,000 from the month of February when the WPA costs amounted to $177,479.04, according to Auditor Harry G. Wetherell. The WPA regular payroll amounted to 2753 persons for the month, in addition to 266 classed as federal employees.

SRA expenditures amounted to $45,659.15 for March, according to Paymaster William Hynds. Direct relief cost SRA $37,883.93; work relief, $366.16; administrative costs, $568.63 and state unemployment bond fund expenditures totaled $2252.43.

At the end of the past month, the total SRA case load was but 882 persons, as compared with more than $200 in February of last year, the peak month.

The case load on WPA has been dropping also during past weeks, with many persons being absorbed into private employment, officials reported.

HITLER OFFER TURNED DOWN AS INADEQUATE

as providing only for provisional European stability whereas France wants permanent peace with priority of international law in settling disputes.

PARIS, April 2.—(UP)—Rumania, Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia have notified western European powers that they will mobilize if Hungary—as is expected—follows the example of Austria and reintroduces compulsory army training, it was understood today.

Their anxiety indicated they might contemplate action which would draw bigger powers into a situation as alarming as that which immediately followed Germany's reoccupation of the Rhineland.

Austria's rearmament was not unexpected, and the reasons for it, among them the menace of Germany, were known, but Hungary's rearmament would be regarded as a direct threat by the three little entente nations.

They fear both a move by the defeated world war powers to regain territory reallocated by the peace treaties, and they foresee also an effort to restore the rule of the Hapsburg dynasty in central Europe.

It is believed here and in other capitals that Premier Benito Mussolini agreed to Austria's rearmament at his recent conference with Austrian and Hungarian premiers and foreign ministers at Rome.

There are hints that it was not only the menace of a possible German effort to extend its influence in Austria, but difficulties within Austria, which caused yesterday's rearmament move.

The manufacturers association, he said, believes that the president, in proposing the new tax and advocating repeal of the present graduated corporation income tax, has shifted his ground that industry is apt to lose confidence in the basic soundness of his tax philosophy.

SHIRLEY IS GIVEN 100 YEAR SENTENCE

D. C. Shirley, 49, convicted of statutory offenses against two young girls, 14 and 15, inmates of a "certified" home conducted by his wife in Santa Ana, late yesterday was sentenced to San Quentin by Superior Judge James L. Allen for terms aggregating a maximum of 100 years.

The court sentenced Shirley on each count to terms of from 1 to 50 years, and ordered the sentences to run consecutively, instead of concurrently. The exact length of each sentence remains to be determined by the state prison board, after the minimum has been served.

Shirley, who claimed at his trial that the charges against him were a frame-up by his wife, to "get him behind the bars," in revenge for his refusal to aid her brother in obtaining release from jail, had filed notice of intention to move for a new trial.

Yesterday afternoon, his attorney, N. D. Meyer, appeared before the court and withdrew the motion for a new trial. Shirley was immediately sentenced.

DEATH NOTICES

A WORD OF COMFORT

On the road in search of God some people appear to have chosen the path which they tread; others seem to have had their road marked out for them. The important thing is not the particular road you travel, but that your aim and purpose is to find God and ally yourself with the loving will.
Just now your road seems dark and stony and full of pitfalls. It will lead you to Him, and you shall find peace.

LONG BEACH C. OF C. GROUP VISITS HERE

A delegation of Long Beach Chamber of Commerce officials visited the Santa Ana chamber this morning to invite local industries to take part in an industrial exposition planned in Long Beach for May 23-30.

Secretary Howard I. Wood and Directors James Harding, Wilbur Barr and Fred Merker met the Long Beach chamber representatives and discussed the proposed program with them.

CHAPERONES TO BE SOUGHT FOR BEACH GROUPS

Co-operation of parents and proper chaperones of high school and college students during the Easter vacation will be sought by the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce.

This decision was reached yesterday at a meeting of directors of that organization, who discussed the problem of entertaining beach visitors during the vacation period. Parent-Teacher groups also will be asked to co-operate.
The appeal for co-operation of parents in the matter of sending chaperones with all groups planning to vacation at the beach will be broadcast through the newspapers, it was said. Harry Welch, secretary of the Newport chamber, said today that real estate agents in the beach area, in charge of renting vacation cottages, are doing their share in matter of advising groups, renting houses for the period, to come to the beach properly chaperoned.

The directors also decided to open up the poster contest, being conducted prior to the harbor dedication fete, May 23 and 24, to grammar and high school students in all sections of the county and to extend the time of entering drawings until April 24.

Three prizes, of $5, $3 and $2, will be awarded winning posters in both the grammar and high school divisions of the contest. The contest will close April 24 and all entries will be displayed the following day in the auditorium of the Newport grammar school, with awards to be made the same day.

The posters must be 14 by 21 inches and in three colors. A limited number of words may be used on the drawings but must include "Newport Harbor Opening, May 23 and 24."

E. I. Moore was named chairman of the chamber of commerce advertising committee for the year. He will be assisted by five committeemen.

Members of the chamber present were the president, S. A. Meyer; Irvin George Gordon, E. I. Moore, Harry H. Williamson, Paul A. Palmer, M. S. Robinson, Carl J. Johnson, J. A. Beek, J. D. Watkins and Theodore Robins.

RESIDENT HERE FOR 25 YEARS PASSES

August Walter Hacklander, 42, resident of Orange county for more than a quarter century, died suddenly today at his home, 907 Palm avenue, Huntington Beach. Funeral services will be announced later by the Harrell and Brown mortuary.

Born in Chicago, Ill., Mr. Hacklander, had lived in Santa Ana for 25 years, prior to moving to Huntington Beach a year ago. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Pearl Hacklander; one daughter, Mrs. Laura Crowell, Watsonville; his mother, Mrs. Ida Hacklander, Santa Ana; three sisters, Tillie Tyler, Santa Ana; Rose Mix, Bell and Mrs. Minnie Kamausa, of Riverside and two brothers, Arnold Hacklander, Laguna Beach and Alvin Hacklander, of Jasper, Ill.

YOUNG BOURBON DENIES CHARGE OF EPIC GROUP

Denying that anyone, employed on WPA projects or who could not afford the expenditure were coerced into purchasing tickets to the $5 a plate dinner recently sponsored by the Young Democrats of Orange County, as charged by W. Maxwell Burke, executive secretary of the Epic Democrats, Stanley Clem, president of the Young Democrats, has challenged him to prove his statements.

Charges that relief workers were forced to purchase tickets to the banquet, which was given to provide funds for the forthcoming campaign, were charged in a letter to Harry Hopkins, Works Progress Administrator, signed by Burke, as an officer of the Epic movement in this county.

Challenging Burke to prove that WPA workers had been forced to buy tickets to the banquet Clem said:

"It is with considerable interest that I have read the article by Attorney Maxwell Burke. I would not go so far as to say that Mr. Burke had deliberately distorted the facts in his accusations concerning the alleged forced sale of tickets to the $5 dinner sponsored by the Young Democrats of Orange County, but I do say, positively, that he is misinformed, or is deliberately trying to destroy party cohesion."

"In the sale of tickets to the dinner, instructions were given that no person should be asked to purchase a ticket that he or she felt they could not afford. I know of numerous instances where individuals were advised not to buy a ticket because of the fact that they had jobs which would not justify such an outlay of cash."

"I personally, will see to it that anyone sold a ticket under circumstances such as were cited by Mr. Burke, is refunded his money, if he will call at 216 West Third street and sign a statement to that effect."

"I know that there are people, who have tried to be political powers in this community and failed. They will try to stir up trouble in the ranks of the Democrats and destroy the harmonious relationship of friends, if possible. They cannot offer any good reason for such actions, except obvious 'sore head' denunciations, and it is unfortunate that Mr. Burke has taken it upon himself to write such an article."

Townsend Clubs

Club No. 9 will meet Friday night at 7:30 o'clock at 2060 South Main street.

Club No. 7 will meet at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night at the Orange avenue Christian church at McFadden street and Orange avenue. F. L. Carrier will bring information on late facts in connection with the Townsend movement.

"I deny, most emphatically, that anyone was forced to buy a ticket to the dinner and defy Mr. Burke to prove it."

29TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY IS CELEBRATED

April Fool's day, notwithstanding, no one in Santa Ana was more surprised yesterday than Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gross, when 22 friends and relatives assembled upon them en masse to help them celebrate their twenty-ninth wedding anniversary at their home on Orange avenue.

Miss Gertrude Gross, their daughter, too, came in for a generous share of the honors as she celebrated her eighteenth birthday. By a pre-arranged plan, the honorees were sitting in the parlor of their home with Chet Gross, their son, and his wife, waiting for the William Harmons, and expecting to attend one of the theater programs last night, when the "uninvited" guests "barged in" unannounced. The wedding anniversary actually occurred Monday, usually an annual party event, but the guests delayed the party, pretending it had been called off.

A beautifully decorated cake, made and iced by Mrs. Harry Gross, for the Harry Grosses, and a second cake decorated by Chet Gross for his birthday-celebrating sister, were among the refreshments served during the evening. The three married children of the wedding anniversary celebrants, Mrs. William (Gladys) Harmon, Wayne Gross and Chet Gross, presented their parents with a lovely set of silverware, supplemented by a personal gift of six salad forks from Jeweler Albert Asher.

Those present for the happy event were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gross; Miss Gertrude Gross; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Harris; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Birt; Mr. and Mrs. John Buckwalter; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Harmon; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fink; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carlson; Mr. and Mrs. Dean Laub; Mr. and Mrs. Ashley Knowlton; Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Gross and son, Nathan; Mr. and Mrs. William Harmon; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Farmer; Mr. and Mrs. Chet Gross; Mrs. W. C. Dunlap; Mrs. Anna Nelson; Mrs. Nettie Smith; Bill Green; Miss Mary Jane Gross; James Gross and Bobby Gross. All of the Harry Gross children, four boys and three girls, were among those present to help in the celebration.

260 CHILDREN EXAMINED BY HEALTH OFFICE

BY DR. K. H. SUTHERLAND
Orange County Health Officer

During the past two months, many parents over the county have secured a physical examination of their children who will enter school for the first time next fall. Though the fall term does seem rather far in the future, now is the time to obtain this physical check, in order that remediable defects discovered in these examinations can be corrected before the child enters on his school life.

With this in mind, the national and local Parent-Teacher associations, for several years past, have made these pre-school examinations one of their projects, and again this year, Parent-Teacher associations of the Fourth District, with the help of the Orange County Health department, have arranged for examination clinics in practically every part of the county.

A total of 260 children already have been examined in these conferences this spring, and we are giving below the physical examination clinic schedule for the next few weeks. There is no charge for examinations performed in these clinics.

If the child is taken to the family physician's office for his examination, the parent is requested to first secure a school examination card or examination blank through the principal of the school or through the health department, so that this card will be filled out by the physician and later filed with the child's school health record at school.

Below is the clinic schedule:
Thursday, April 2—9 a. m., El Modena; 9 a. m., Edison school, Santa Ana.
Friday, April 3—9 a. m., Westminster school, Westminster.
Monday, April 6—9 a. m., St. Boniface school, Anaheim.
Monday, April 13—9 a. m., John Muir school, Santa Ana; 9 a. m., Mexican school, Westminster.
Wednesday, April 15—9 a. m., Broadway school, Anaheim.
Friday, April 17—9 a. m., Ford school, Fullerton; 1:30 p. m., Stanton school, Stanton.
Monday, April 20—9 a. m., Laurel school, Brea; 1:30 p. m., Hoover school, Santa Ana.
Wednesday, April 22—9 a. m., Washington school, Anaheim.

STATE K. OF C. ASKING ADS OF S. A. MERCHANTS

Past Grand Knight Charles W. Wolford of the Santa Ana council of the Knights of Columbus stated today that any solicitors who may be obtaining money from local merchants for advertisements in the "Knights of Columbus Historical Review" are not representing the Santa Ana council, Knights of Columbus, in any way.

The book, he said, is being published by the state council of the Knights of Columbus.

Past Grand Knight Wolford also pointed out that, if merchants wish to advertise in the book, they are furthering a worthy cause, but may keep in mind that the only printed matter issued and sponsored by the Santa Ana Knights of Columbus is the "Annual Barbecue Program," for which "ad" solicitations will not start for another month or so.

EXPECT 10,000 TOWNSENDITES AT LONG BEACH

Townsendites of Los Angeles and Orange counties will trek Long Beachward Saturday to take part in a huge celebration and entertainment starting with a picnic in Bixby Park and concluding with a mammoth old-fashioned barn dance and farm festival in the Long Beach Municipal Auditorium.

Townsend leaders estimate that fully 10,000 Townsend followers will attend the two events. Proceeds of the auditorium show are to be turned over to the Townsend club of the Eighteenth congressional district to help promote the old-age pension program.

The Orange County Townsend Band of 25 pieces, directed by T. Duxan Collins, will give a concert at the park. The band also will take part in the evening festivities in which more than 200 persons will compete in a score of contests featuring hog calling, husband calling, Presley Cousins, Long Beach resident, holder of the Kansas and Missouri dance calling championships, will defend his title. The old-costume contest promises to be one of the most interesting on the program. Many old-time garments will be worn.

Champions will vie for honors in a number of competitions, particularly dance calling, hog calling and husband calling. Presley Cousins, Long Beach resident, holder of the Kansas and Missouri dance calling championships, will defend his title. The old-costume contest promises to be one of the most interesting on the program. Many old-time garments will be worn.

Charley Wallace, assistant director of the Southern California Industrial Exposition to be held in Long Beach in May, will be master of ceremonies.

The afternoon picnic promises to bring together a number of leaders of the Townsend cause. Speakers will include Miss Lois Johnson, young San Diego lecturer; Hal M. Slemmons, Western Regional director; Clinton C. De Witt, Detroit attorney, and probably Tom Wallace, head of the radio division of the Townsend movement who has just returned from Washington, D. C., headquarters.

OCEANVIEW PLANS BASEBALL GROUNDS

OCEANVIEW, April 2.—Workmen have leveled a portion of the grounds at Oceanview school, preparatory to building a community baseball diamond on the property.

Residents of this community secured county assistance in carrying out the project after obtaining permission from school officials to use a portion of the school property. Bleachers and lights for night games will be installed.

KNIGHTS COLUMBUS TO MEET TONIGHT

The second meeting of the S. A. Knights of Columbus in the "10 for 1" campaign, now being conducted throughout the nation, will be held tonight in the council hall. This special meeting is designed as "Catholic Activities Night." Charles W. Wolford in charge of the campaign, urges all members to be there and bring in their prospects for membership. All marshals will be expected to report on the prospects already assigned to them. Refreshments will be served at the close of the meeting.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Caused by Tired Kidneys
Many of those gnawing, nagging, restless backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and they are relieved when treated in the right way. The kidneys are one of Nature's subtle ways of taking acids and wastes out of the blood. A healthy person should pass about 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter. If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, this waste stays in the body and may become poisonous. It may start nagging backaches, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Don't let it lay you up. Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills—and successfully for millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help to flush out the 15 miles of kidney tubes. Doan's Pills.

FORUM SPEAKER DEFENDS F. D. R. RECOVERY PLAN

Speaking last night on the first program to be sponsored by the recently formed Forum for Economic and Political Education Elmer S. Nelson, financial advisor of the Woodrow Wilson administration outlined "Accomplishments and Aims of the Administration." The forum meets weekly in the Unitarian church, Eighth and Bush streets.

According to Nelson the Roosevelt Recovery program is not a system arrived at after the inauguration of the President but is a program planned since 1920 when Franklin D. Roosevelt was recovering from infantile paralysis.

Nelson said that, during the years he was confined to his bed, Roosevelt studied the American scene, politics and industry and was one of the two men in the United States who realized that American finances and business would crash as they did in 1929. The other man, Nelson said, was Calvin Coolidge who "did not choose to run" for re-election in 1928.

It was this knowledge that caused Roosevelt to take steps toward devaluing the dollar and seek legislation curbing the holding companies. The attack against holding companies was launched, Nelson said after an investigation by Sen. George Norris and a second probe conducted by a Senate committee with Ferdinand Pecora heading the investigation revealed that five men, through the agency of three holding companies, controlled 80 per cent of the business in the nation. In 1933, Nelson said, the United Corporation, J. P. Morgan Com-

BROOKS MOVES INTO NEW LOCATION

Below, left, is the attractive entrance to the new Brooks Clothing Company store at the corner of Fourth and Sycamore streets, showing the modernistic trend used throughout the building. Right, John Turner, manager of the store. The store opened yesterday after moving from its former location at Fourth and Bush streets.

'HOPALONG CASSIDY'
COMES TO WALKER'S

The hero of many fiction stories from the pen of Clarence E. Mulford, Hopalong Cassidy, comes to life in the screen play by the same name which opens a two day run at Walker's State theater tomorrow. William Boyd has the title role in this story of the wars against the rustlers by the cattle barons of the old west. Paula Stone provides the heart interest in this lively action picture.

A comedy, a newswheel, a color cartoon and a chapter of "The Phantom Empire" complete the program for Friday and Saturday. The Kiddies' club will meet for its regular session at 1 p. m. Saturday with a treat provided for each member present.

"The Return of Peter Grimm," starring Lionel Barrymore, and "The Payoff" with James Dunn, Claire Dodd and Patricia Ellis, both features running locally for the first time, will be given their last showings on tonight's program.

BROOKS CLOTHING COMPANY MOVES TO NEW QUARTERS AT FOURTH, SYCAMORE STREETS

Following the modern merchandising trend the Brooks Clothing company has moved into its new location at the corner of Fourth and Sycamore streets.

In Santa Ana since 1928 and located at Fourth and Bush the rapid expansion of the Brooks Clothing company made the move necessary. The store is located in the rooms formerly occupied by the Walgreen Drug store, in the Spurgeon building.

Remodeling of the store started as soon as the drug company moved out. The interior was ripped out and replaced with modern clothing store fixtures in natural oak panels designed along the simple lines that stand for modern beauty in business. The exterior is finished in maroon tile.

In the new store there are no ledges to catch dust and offer unsightly corners to the store patrons. Cases and fixtures are flush with the walls. Full length mirrors are built into alcoves constructed specially for that purpose.

One of the most unique features of the new store is the series of show windows along the Sycamore street side of the store. These windows, instead of being shut away from the store are constructed as alcoves offering additional lighting facility. Each window is flanked by full length mirrors. The store front, itself is of the most modern design, offering full view windows for displaying merchandise.

Store furniture is modernistic in design combining red leather and chromium frames in artistic combinations.

Clearing out all old stock, prior to moving into the new location, the Brooks Clothing company is offering its patrons all new stock in suits and men's furnishings. The regular line of Brooks suits, designed by the chairman of the style committee of Designers of America, and manufactured by Brooks is being offered with a famous $25 suit that made the organization famous, topping the list.

For the first time, however, the store is offering a special made-to-measure suit at $35.

A complete line of men's furnishings has been added to the accommodations offered through the store. In this department nationally advertised lines, at popular prices are offered for sale. Included in the nationally advertised lines to be found at the Brooks Clothing company are, John B. Stetson hats, Manhattan shirts, Phoenix hose and B. V. D. sports wear.

John C. Turner, formerly of San Francisco, but connected with the local store for several months, becomes manager of the organization here and will be assisted by a staff of five salesmen and tailor. Today Turner issued a cordial invitation to all men to visit the new store, saying "we are now fully prepared to serve our customers better than ever before."

Turner said that one of the reasons for the tremendous increase in business at the local Brooks Clothing company store, is the fact that this organization is the first clothing house in Southern California to introduce the 90-day account method of merchandising.

Relative to merchandise carried in the new store Turner said, "For Spring and Summer Brooks clothes are, by all odds, the most unusual, the most outstanding that have ever been offered in our store. They are different, finer and smarter than ever. The Brooks Clothing company officials have realized for many years that men demand, at a popular price, the same quality of smartness formerly confined to high priced clothes are, by all odds, the most the leader in the field to meet that demand and was ideally situated to do so with the facilities of its modern tailoring plants and tremendous volume of business that makes possible the undeniable Brooks value."

— News Behind the News —

BY PAUL MALLON
(Copyright, 1936, By Paul Mallon)
COLOR BOOKKEEPING
WASHINGTON, April 2.—Treasury bookkeepers took out their green ink bottles at the end of the quarter-year and computed their federal debt at approximately $11,500,000,000. (They generally use green for the debt. Continuous use of red is hard on the eyes. Also the contrast imparts some appropriate Christmas spirit to the books the year 'round.)

More meticulous official bookkeepers on the outside used blue ink on the same day and got an entirely different total. They computed the debt at $10,000,000,000. The disparity lies in the fact that the treasury book artists apparently have been keeping in invisible ink the rising total of obligations fully guaranteed by the United States.

BONDING

A line on this uncalculated portion of the debt may be found in the federal reserve bulletin for March if you have a magnifying glass. The line is down at the bottom corner of page 170.

It shows the continuous growth in importance of the obligations of the Federal Farm Mortgage Corporation and the Home Owners Loan Corporation, both of which are fully guaranteed by the treasury as to principal and interest. Not a month has passed since these activities started which failed to record an increase in their outstanding obligations.

The last official totals are for January. These show the total of FPMC obligations to be $1,400,000,000, HOLC, $2,900,000,000, and RFC, $2,200,000,000. (This comparatively small RFC sum is the portion of RFC debt not included in the treasury public debt figures.)

This grand uncalculated addition to the debt totals $4,500,000,000 at that date. It is probably around $4,800,000,000 by now.

Note—Careful accountants also would probably include some of the unaccounted Federal Land bank bonds and some of the intermediate credit bank debentures, although most of the $2,000,000,000 of land bank bonds were issued before the depression. The credit bank debentures amount to a paltry $130,000,000.

If the government were a corporation it would be required by law to include these figures in its debt totals. The securities and exchange commission would indict anyone thus attempting to minimize his true debt condition.

The logical cause offered by the treasury is that these guaranteed obligations are backed "dollar for dollar" by something (mortgages, bank stock or whatever the particular agencies have taken in as collateral).

The fact is they are backed, all right, but no one has the slightest idea whether the government is going to come out of it "dollar for dollar." It will suffer some losses, but if it accepted true depression valuations on collateral it should also have made some excellent investments.

Meanwhile, the books show nothing.

JURY FOREMAN ANSWERS RADIO NEWS' ATTACK

TRENTON, N. J., April 2.—(UP)—Foreman Allyn Freeman of the Mercer county grand jury today issued a statement saying "nothing of a political, biased or prejudicial nature will be tolerated in the grand jury room so long as I remain foreman."

The jury is investigating the "Wendel angle" of the Hauptmann case. "I," the foreman said, "shall never accept a penny nor an ounce of political patronage as remuneration for any statement I ever make about this unfortunate case, and the statements I do make will be based upon fact and will be truthful."

"There will be no vote taken in any case when there still remains testimony to be heard," said Ellis Parker, Burlington county detective to whom Paul H. Wendel, disbarred attorney, confessed the murder of the Lindbergh baby, was expected to be the principal witness before the jury again.

Freeman's statement was induced by remarks of Boake Carter, radio news commentator, who suggested that action to settle the Wendel matter could have been taken on Tuesday by a "short panel" of grand jurors instead of the full panel of 23 in which 12 votes are required to indict.

Freeman said he had transcribed Carter's broadcast last night on a record "and will call upon him to answer when time permits." He said the statements were a "libelous, cowardly and malicious lie."

LIGHT SIGNALS IN OPERATION AT TWO POINTS

With new traffic signals at First and Main in and going strong, today, the city police department is having its hands full reminding forgetful motorists to "watch the lights and don't kill anybody."

The installation at First and Main was completed last night, the signal system being without bells and arms but having strong, alternating lights of red, yellow and green to direct traffic.

During the day the signals alternately stop and start traffic on both First and Main streets, but at night, Main street traffic is slowed down by the yellow light and First street traffic is stopped by the red light, acting as a boulevard-stop sign. The signal system is clock timed so that it regulates itself automatically. A similar system has been in at Seventeenth and Main for some time.

TOASTMASTERS CONTEST WON BY W. S. PHELPS

"The Life History of a Sailor" was the subject of the talk which won first place for W. S. Phelps in the speaking contest held by the Toastmasters International at their meeting last evening at James' cafe.

In his talk Phelps told of the life of an old-time sea captain from the time of his early youth in Ireland to the time when he commanded ocean-going steamers.

Second place in the speaking contest was won by Eugene Krueger with his talk on "Safety at Sea." Krueger discussed the provisions made for safety of passengers when at sea on modern vessels.

"Sparks" was the subject of the talk given by Ernest Byrne in which he told of a trial trip of a shipping board freighter on which he served as chief radio operator.

"Frighteners" was the subject of the speech made by W. N. Cummings in which he stated that the unknown in the world of science constitute the frontier of the present day.

Harry Becker, speaking on "The Burning Question" called attention to the amount of tobacco smoked each year in the United States.

David Cherry presided as toastmaster of the evening with A. W. Laddard acting as his dictionary judge and H. O. Ensign as general critic of the meeting.

JIMMY FIDLER in —HOLLYWOOD—

HOLLYWOOD, April 2.—Oliver "Babe" Hardy tells this amusing story. He says that for years Director Mervyn LeRoy did not speak to him. But one day at the Santa Anita track, as Babe was cashing a winning ticket, LeRoy cried, "Hello, Hardy, how are you?" and when Babe politely admitted he was in good health, the director asked what horse he was betting in the next. The fat comedian named one, LeRoy wagered, the horse won, the two again met at the window. "Great stuff, Babe!" the director exclaimed. "You know, I think you and Stan Laurel should be making your pictures for our studio. I'll see if I can arrange it. Now, how're you betting the next?" Again Hardy named a horse, and again it won. This time LeRoy was exuberant to the point of inviting Babe and his wife to dinner. And once more he asked for a race tip. Hardy provided one, and this time the director plunged heavily—but the horse came in last. "I'll swear on a stack of Bibles," Babe said at the Lakeside Round Table, "the fellow has passed me a dozen times since then, and he hasn't spoken once."

Decision of Beatrice Lillie again to essay the cinema came as a surprise. After her one and only screen venture, which was highly unsuccessful, she quite the colony with a very determined "never again!" Miss Lillie's exquisite sense of humor, which is far too subtle for most audiences, has thus far failed to click on screen or radio. Producers of the screen musical comedy in which she will take a new flyer have hit upon what looks to be a sensible idea: They will assign a crew of very down-to-earth writers to the story. Somewhere between their efforts and Bee's re-writes, the producers believe there is opportunity for a sensational comeback.

Private life: Fashion experts who, for publicity's sake, include Greta Garbo among their "ten best-dressed women," when everybody knows she does not belong. Brooklyn-born actresses who make one picture in England, and return home to pronounce apple, "ahpple." I can't stand it!

Walt Disney's makes Mickey Mouse and Silly Symphonies) apers.

Football pictures offering Norman Foster, Billy Bakewell and Charles Farrell as gridiron heroes, when one good knee-tackle would rattle the bones of any of them like grandpa's teeth on cold nights.

Actress's quotes on "raising babies." Most star-mammies have only one, and trained nurses do the raising—while mamma cackles.

Newspaper headline writers who concoct glaring banners, such as: MOVIE STAR IN SCANDAL, when the person involved is an extra who worked only twice last year.

Second Shirley Temples. They are not even good thirds.

Irvin Cobb tells me of a peculiarity that affects his screen work. To save him, he cannot read dialogue written by other authors. A writer himself, Cobb has a natural sense of conversation. He knows how he would write a screen or story character's speech. He constantly "blows his lines" when he is asked to repeat them verbatim. But when he is permitted to ad lib, or at least to re-write his dialogue, he sails gracefully. Robert Benchley is another writer-actor who edits his dialogue to suit his own notions of how it should be written. Will Rogers rarely stuck to a script.

I readily understand this mental quick. On my own radio programs, I cannot read the writings of others, who are often more literary than I. Once, during an ill spell, I assigned another to "do my script." He turned in a beautiful job, but I so hashed it up in rehearsal that I was forced to call a brace of stenographers and re-write the entire program, finishing in a cold sweat just as the NBC chimes marked the finish of the period preceding mid.

"Rhodes, Empire Builder," Comedy Now at Broadway

Starring Walter Huston, "Rhodes the Empire Builder," and "Snowed Under," bright new comedy with George Brent, Genevieve Tobin, Glenda Farrell and Frank McHugh, are on the double feature program which opens today at the Broadway theater.

A Gaumont British production, "Rhodes the Empire Builder" is said to be breath-taking in its magnitude and throbbing with the glamor and romance of thrilling adventure in South Africa. It is an authentic story of the adventures of the famous British empire builder. The film has a cast which includes Oscar Homolka, Basil Sidney, Peggy Ashcroft and Frank Cellier.

"Snowed Under" is a highly amusing comedy romance which concerns the affairs of a philanthropic playboy who is besieged in his New England farmhouse by two ex-wives and a new sweetheart. By a strange prank of fate all three turn up at his home the same afternoon, and a sudden blizzard leaves them snowed under for the night. The troubles that follow with three jealous women at the man's throat lead to hilarious situations.

NEW GLY-CAS IS A SENSATION IN ALL SANTA ANA

Crowds Coming to K-B Drug Co., 108 West Fourth Street, to Get Gly-Cas; Local Gentleman Given New Health, Stomach and Kidneys Regulated, Freed of Rheumatic Pain and Suffering.

Never before has a single medicine created such a sensation throughout Santa Ana and vicinity as this new Gly-Cas. Hundreds of local residents have already been given the good and glorious health they had been wanting for years and were unable to find in any other medicine or treatment before.

Read what Mr. George Phillips, 1104 West Eighth Street, Santa Ana, well known local gentleman 67 years of age who has lived here for the past fifteen years, said recently to the Gly-Cas Man at the K-B Drug Co., 108 West Fourth Street, this city:

"Gly-Cas action was almost miraculous in my case," said Mr. Phillips. "For six years my health had failed rapidly. I was habitually constipated and I began to suffer with kidney trouble and its complications. I became terribly nervous, attacks of indigestion would come after every meal I ate and I would blot until I could hardly get my breath. My stomach actually felt as if it was filled with rocks and the severe pains never ceased. My entire system was filled with poisons and such rheumatism had a dreadful hold on me. My back, limbs and arms pained continually often to severe I was almost frantic—but in spite of all I tried I could not find anything to help me. I was practically crippled, could not raise up after bending over, hardly had the use of my arms at times and it was almost impossible for me to dress myself. I was so stiff and sore. But finally I was persuaded to give this new Gly-Cas a trial and now my health troubles are at an end. I feel I am an entirely new man and yet I have only taken a little over two boxes of Gly-Cas," continued Mr. Phillips. "This new herbal remedy has thoroughly cleansed my body in a manner in which it has never been before. My stomach, bowels and kidneys are regulated, bloating and indigestion have gone entirely, eat and sleep good and cannot laud this new remedy half enough for what it has accomplished for me. Even that dreadful rheumatism has been driven from my body, can now get around with ease, stoop over—all I want, raise my hands and arms as well as I ever could and all that miserable pain and suffering has practically left me. Mine was a case that seemed 'doomed to stay with me' until I began Gly-Cas—it was wonderful—even after all else had failed in my case."

The Gly-Cas Man is daily meeting crowds of local people at the K-B Drug Co., 108 West Fourth Street, this city, where he is introducing and explaining this new remedy.

Gly-Cas $1.00 box, 6 boxes $5.00 by mail, plus 2c a box tax. Cash must accompany order.

REOPEN LOG TRACK WITH NIGHT RACES

Elks Tie Stars, 5-5; Morse Shines

ORANGE SEEKS CORNELIUS TO BOLSTER STAFF

The softball "championship" of Santa Ana is still undecided. Battling for the dubious honor in the Municipal Bowl last night, the Stars and Elks play a 5-5 tie over a seven-inning game.

The Stars presented a makeshift lineup, and even loaned the Elks their ace pitcher, Jim Coates, as well as his catcher, "Bono" Kornal.

"Hot copy" of the training camp was the pitching of Lyle Morse, the youngster Manager George Lackey took out of the Orange County league a few weeks ago.

Lackey was being touted Morse as the equal of Coates, and the former Olive "B" leaguer made Lackey look like a real prophet. Hurling the final four innings for the Stars, Morse fanned 10 of the 13 men that faced him. One popped up to first, one fouled out to the catcher and the other got a life when Al Reboin dropped a lazy fly to center field.

Otherwise, the Stars were not impressive, and only a three-run rally in the seventh inning saved them the humiliation of a defeat by the City league champions. Morse started it himself. He was safe on Hanson's error in right field. George Stevens tripled to left, scoring Morse. Conrad and Reboin skied out but George Preble singled to left, tallying Stevens, went to second on a passed ball and rang the bell when Tommy Young singled to left.

The Stars made their other runs in the third and fourth. Kornal's triple accounting for the second. The Elks gathered all theirs off Roy Stout, who came to the Stars in the exchange for Coates. Schwartz's single and Clark's double produced one in the first. In the third, Stevens and Schwartz walked. Levens doubled, Clark singled and Bell singled. A couple of wild pitches and a fielder's choice figured in the rally.

Tom Lacy of the Stars went out of action for at least two weeks when he turned an ankle chasing a foul fly back of first last night. New Tom is hobbling about on TWO bad legs. He sprained some ligaments in the other ankle playing basketball. . . . Manager Lackey wants all hands on deck for the conflict with Irvine here Friday. Tom Denney will be down from Los Angeles and "Nan" Coates will be over from Whittier. Jim Coates will start for the Stars. Lackey said. . . . Chances of Catcher Francis Lemon joining the Stars or any other club are remote. Anaheim has refused to give him his release. . . . The Elks meet the First National bank in the Bowl to-night.

Awake to all possibilities, the new Orange club is understood to be angling for services of "Jumpy" Joe Cornelius, onetime pitching ace of the National League.

Released by Santa Ana after he apparently had lost his effectiveness, Cornelius has been hurling winning ball in the City league here for several years.

A smart veteran, still rated as the best fielding pitcher that ever played in the division, Cornelius would strengthen an Orange staff none too strong now.

Joe Rodgers' Huntington Beach Oilers, two-time Southern California champions, held their first workout last night and play their first exhibition tussle tomorrow. Facing the fast Felix Chevrolet of Los Angeles at the Huntington Beach park. The Oilers are to meet the First National bank nine of Santa Ana next Tuesday.

All of last year's Oilers were out for the drill except First Baseman Bob Smith, who was ill, and Third Baseman Bill McKinley, who was working.

Pitcher Louie Neva limbered up leisurely. He said he had "thumbed down" a glittering proposition from Visalia of the San Joaquin Valley league.

PRETTY PUPIL

'Tis a pleasure for Ted Lyons, of the Chicago White Sox pitching staff, to teach the rudiments of his trade to pretty June Morse, especially since the movie star is the daughter of Harry Grabner, vice president of the club. Ted, veteran of the Sox staff, is showing June how to throw a hook.

Dean Wrestles Bill Sledge Monday Night

"Man Mountain" Dean, whose 317 pounds, mass of whiskers and running broad jump combined to bring him to the fore as a leading heavyweight grappler and made him more than $100,000 in purses in Southern California, today was signed to wrestle the Southern titleholder, Bill Sledge, in Monday night's three-fall main event at the Orange County Athletic club.

Dean wrestled here three times last year and on each occasion capacity crowds watched him perform. Since then the bearded giant made a successful Eastern tour and has been winning consistently hereabouts.

In naming Sledge to face Dean, Promoter John ("Doc") Contos claims he has the man most likely to score an upset. The popular Southern heavyweight is undefeated at the 101 Heavyweight club.

Contos also signed the Greek champion, George Kondelis, to appear in the secondary feature. Kondelis faces the rough Irishman, Jerry Monahan.

HELEN HICKS UNDER PHYSICIAN'S KNIFE

NEW YORK, April 2.—(UP)—Helen Hicks, former National Women's champion and now a businesswoman golfer, was recovering today in the Nassau hospital, Mineola, L. I., from an operation for appendicitis. After she recovers she expected to make a world exhibition tour.

20 POINTS S. A. GOAL N MEET AT LONG BEACH

Twenty points will be the objective of Santa Ana's Saints tomorrow when they go to Long Beach for a dual-meet beating as certain as death and taxes.

Lighter than usual, the Santa Anas will be pitted against a squad of Jackrabbits without a real weakness. Long Beach last week defeated San Diego, 59 to 55, showing a 10.2 and 22.2 sprinter in Roger Clemens, a 22.5 quarter-miler in Sexton, a 2:02 half-miler in Scott, a 4:51 miler in Bridges, a 5:11 high jumper in Lippincott, and a 127-foot discus thrower in Klenk. The Hares also uncovered plenty of second and third place men.

Santa Ana hopes for first place in the high jump, with Capt. Bias Mercurio, and in the pole vault with Len Stafford. All the Saint power possible will be concentrated in the Class B and C divisions in hopes of making a closer meet.

Coach Greene's entries: Class A—Harry Adams, Bernie Grandos, James Johnson, Martin May, Bias Mercurio, Robert Motley, Walter Opp, Ernest Price, Jack Schilling, Harold Short, Len Stafford, Larry Stump and Fred Titensor. Class B—Jim and Ward Elliott, Tom Engelman, Elson Gabe, Eugene Hamaker, William Hemmen, Ray Hermann, Nathan Lewis, Dalton Lutz, Hugh Neibohr, Mitsuo Nitta, Dwight Nott, Jim O'Connell, George Ogata, Corrado Parrida, Richard Preston, Carroll Richardson, Charles Sawyer, Thomas Shoemaker, Wendell Tedrow, Don Smith, Dearing Wagener, Kenneth Warren, Marvin Webb, Jimmy Wendow and Herschel Whitney. Class C—Bill Barry, Byram Bates, Jack Clark, Robert Cooper, Laurence Dresser, Richard Ladiges, Junior Mulvihill, Robert Newton, Fred Pimental, Perry Smith and Richard Stein.

OPEN RANGE SCORES AT TANFORAN AGAIN

SAN BRUNO, April 2.—(UP)—Eighteen contenders awaited weight assignments for Saturday's $2500 Marchbank Handicap prep race today as interest of Tanforan track fans continued to narrow down to the $10,000 handicap race which will conclude the current meeting April 11.

Nominations for the prep race closed yesterday. Listed for weight assignments were Open Range, Crete, Jovius, Seguro, Plucky Jack, Nilus, Easy Sailing, Red Ensign, Slipped, Dark Winter, Lady Florise, Orra, Arson, Tor Flight, Happy Bolivar, Toration, Coldwater and Indian broom.

Open range, owned by Mrs. A. Creech, provided the feature of yesterday's program by defeating the solid contenders scheduled to run in the Marchbank event. It was Open Range's fourth consecutive victory.

80 BEGIN FOOTBALL DRILL AT STANFORD

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, April 2.—(UP)—Faced with the task of building his 1936 football machine from an assortment of last year's spare parts and new extras, Coach Elmer (Doc) Thompson settled down to a heavy spring training routine at Stanford University today.

Eighty aspirants answered Thompson's call for players. Although he has plenty of line material and fair backfield prospects, "Tino" needs tackles and "power" backs. Minus his famous "pounding sophomores" who fought their way into the Rose Bowl for three consecutive years, Thompson now is doing the vowing—namely that he has no idea how his team will line up next fall.

Ben Winkelman, former Fort Worth, Tex., high school mentor, and Bobby Grayson, Stanford's two-year All-American fullback, were on hand yesterday at opening sessions.

Grayson signed his coaching contract a bare three hours before practice opened.

Although he offered no explanation of the delay, it was understood he was negotiating until the last minute with the New York Giants professional team, seeking a $7500 annual salary. It was said he signed his contract after talking with a club official by telephone last night.

Rickey suffered lacerations about the head and injuries to his legs yesterday when the car in which he was riding with William De Witt, Cardinals treasurer, and Mrs. De Witt, struck a truck driven by a Negro. De Witt was driving the car.

Golf's New Trick-Shot Artist Admits It Himself

HE'LL WOW THE BRITISHERS

BY HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

PINEHURST, N. C., April 2.—"What buried ball trick?" I asked. "Only those children with extraordinary imaginations and a decided flair for the fanciful should be encouraged by parents to adopt the career of a trick-shot golfer. Joe Ezar told me today in a heart-to-heart talk in the tap room of the Pinehurst Country club.

Ezar speaks with authority for although he is only 26 and has been in the business but three years, he has blazed across the trick-shot heavens so swiftly that today his fame is exceeded only by Joe Kirkwood, and Ezar doesn't believe Kirkwood will top him for long.

As he so nicely puts it (along with an order for another orangeade and soda) "Kirkwood is a great guy, a grand fellow and I wouldn't say a word against him cause he's a buddy. He's been at it a long time now and I can do all his shots and he can't do half of mine."

"Artists' Born, Not Made" Ezar believes shot artists are born, not made. Practice will enable a man to be a fair artist, he said, but to be a genius with a golf ball and club a man must have had the divine touch since birth.

"Take me," Ezar said. "I got that touch. If I didn't have how could I ever have thought up the things I do? Don't have to sit down and puzzle things out to do with that ball. They just come to me as I'm sitting around like this, or eating, or dancing."

"I've had ideas come to me while I was asleep. While I'm talking to you here I might get a thought, and if I do, don't pay any attention to me if I get up and run out of the door to the practice tee. Soon as I get one, no matter where I'm at, I run, get my clubs and work it out. That buried ball trick came to me just that way."

CUB COACH CREDITED WITH TEAM'S SUCCESS IN 1935

SARASOTA, Fla., April 2.—John J. (Red) Corriden, veteran coach, is credited with the suggestion that had more than anything else to do with transforming the Chicago Cubs from a third place team to a pennant winner. . . . It was Corriden who a year ago urged that young Augie Galan, a mediocre second baseman, be switched to the outfield. . . . More at home in left field, Galan's batting average soared from .260 to .314. . . . The Berkeley boy led the National league in runs scored in 1935 with 133, and in stolen bases with 22. . . . Galan's only weakness in center field, which he is to patrol this trip, is the one that marred his work at second base. . . . It is throwing a great arm. . . . Singularly enough, it was relieving Galan at shortstop for the San Francisco Seals in the closing days of 1933 that convinced all ranks that the New York Yankees, belonged in the outfield. . . . Gene Lillard, who manufactured 56 home runs while compiling an average of .361 for Los Angeles, has awaited few long balls in spring games with the Cubs. . . . Lillard, a third baseman, is a colorless chap of 22. . . . He has a fine arm, but is not particularly fast, and the powers-that-be already have him tabbed as a bad fielder.

BEST BENCH PLAYER

Woody English remains the only dugout player-captain, and the highest priced substitute in either major league. . . . English, a splendid young man, has a tremendous influence on his teammates. . . . Several other big time arrays would welcome the Ohioan as a regular. . . . His value is that he can hop in at any time at either shortstop or third base. . . . For several seasons he has been the best paid player in the business. . . . If that still isn't the case, they are not far from it, with Charley Grimm at $25,000, "Gabby" Hartnett at $22,500, Warneke at $18,000, Billy Herman at $15,000, and Klein and Jurgas at $12,500 each. . . . Klein was given a contract calling for $30,000 when the Wrigley interests gave the Phillies $65,000 and Mark Koenig, Ted Kleinhaus, and "Gink" Hendrick for the Hossier slugger in November, 1933. . . . "Chuck" was the senior loop batting champion that year with a mark of .368. . . . The year before he topped the wheel in hits, runs, and stolen bases. . . . At Wrigley Field, Klein's batting fell to .301 in 1934 and to .293 last season, which is something in the way of proof that he misses the bandbox that is Baker Bowl.

CUBS' TREK PAID

The Cubs and the war correspondents accompanying them thoroughly enjoyed the transcontinental trip from Catalina to Florida, and it has been highly profitable. . . . The least number of paid admissions played to by the National league champions was 2400, and the most a crowd of 12,000 in Los Angeles. . . . "Chuck" Klein has had only one big day thus far—in San Antonio, where he singled, tripled, and hit a home run against the Pilgrims.

BASEBALL

(By United Press) BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—Ben Chapman, who had been expected to come into the New York Yankees fold without much trouble when they arrived here, moved today into the status of one of the club's most stubborn holdouts.

Chapman, refusing to accept a $2000 wage cut, threatens to retire from baseball unless he is given the $12,000 he received last year.

CLEARWATER, Fla.—The Brooklyn Dodgers have reduced their ranks to 26 players, including Holdout Joe Stripp, who has refused to accept a $1000 wage cut, and two catchers. Manager Casey Stengel will have to pare off only two players May 15 if Stripp does not sign.

GREENWOOD, Miss.—The Cleveland Indians enjoyed a margin of five games to three over the New York Giants as those two clubs met in the ninth game of the exhibition series here today. The Indians won yesterday's game.

LITTLE TURNS PRO: MASTERS' GOLF DELAYED

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 2.—(UP)—The Augusta National golf championship field had an unscheduled day of rest today. Drenching rains had postponed the opening round until Friday.

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 2.—(UP)—W. Lawson Little, of San Francisco, amateur golf's greatest player for the past two years has turned professional to join Bobby Jones in a golf promotion position with a sporting goods company.

The 25-year-old San Franciscan renounced his amateur status in a decision which surprised even his close friends. He will play in the Augusta Masters' tournament, starting Friday, as a professional. Unlike Bobby Jones, who will not accept prize money, Little will take whatever he wins.

Little, who learned golf on the wind-swept plains of Tientsin, China, where his father was stationed at a U. S. army post, will tour the country in a campaign to increase interest in golf. His work will consist of giving exhibitions, demonstrations and lectures.

"I regret giving up my amateur status," said Little, "but I feel I shall be happier and more useful in my new work than in any other I might undertake."

On his honeymoon here, Little said his wife approved of his decision to quit the amateur ranks which he has dominated the last two years. His grand slam in the U. S. and British amateur championships in two years is unequalled in golf history.

He will seek the British and U. S. Open titles this year, and will play in several other open tournaments. Little would not reveal the terms of his contract or how long it had to run.

After the Augusta tournament, Little, Jones, Jimmy Thompson and Horton Smith probably will start the first of the planned demonstrations. They will give lectures in addition to exhibitions, especially catering to boys and girls of college age.

GOLF PLAYER'S FATHER APPROVES ACTION

SAN FRANCISCO, April 2.—(UP)—Col. William Little, Lawson Little's father, today expressed approval of his son's action in turning professional.

"Lawson can do more for golf as a professional than he could as an amateur and I highly approve his turning pro," Colonel Little said at the San Francisco Presidio.

"He couldn't go on indefinitely in the amateur status because of financial reasons. He's a married man now, you know, besides helping himself. I know he will be better qualified and equipped to promote the sport of golf under these new set up."

THREE GREEN HANDS IN CREW OF BEARS

BERKELEY, April 2.—(UP)—With their annual "acid test" against Washington only 17 days away, five veterans and three green oarsmen occupied University of California's varsity shell today.

Engaged in a free-for-all battle to retain seats in the first boatload which Californians hope will be victorious at Poughkeepsie and will represent the United States in the Olympic Games for the fourth consecutive time, the crew is a far cry from the eight which won Olympic titles in 1928, and 1932, according to Coach Ky Ebright.

Ebright said he has no idea what combination ultimately will row as the university's first string eight. "It looks to me as though all the boys have a case of 'first boatitis,' which is usual about this time of year," he explained.

After considerable juggling, Ebright now has Gene Berkenkamp, who stroked California at Poughkeepsie last year, at the key position. Behind him are Laurence Dodge, Carroll Briggart, Harry Fremming, Al Daggett, Jim Graves, Harper, Thompson and Evad Swanson. Of this group, only Dodge, Brigham, Fremming and Swanson have had previous experience in competition.

Doubles in Brass

Billy Petrolle, the old Fargo Express, still has plenty of steam up, but he's using it to swing a sledge and drive a truck at his ornamental iron foundry in Duluth. The great little welder and lightie found time hanging heavy on his hands when he retired from the ring, so he used his savings to buy the business. Here he is, shaping a bar.

MISSIONS GET OSBORNE BACK FROM DODGERS

SAN FRANCISCO, April 2.—(UP)—The only factor which baseball experts believed might stand in the way of the Mission Reds winning the 1936 Pacific Coast league pennant was removed today with announcement that the Brooklyn Dodgers are turning back Wayne Osborne, right-handed hurler who won 18 and lost 11 games for the Reds last year.

Admittedly the best-balanced of all Coast league clubs, with the possible exception of the Seattle Indians, Manager Willie Kamm's Reds needed one more starting pitcher to round out a staff of four regulars.

Osborne, who is young and able to work often, as evidence by his 29 recorded games last year, will join the club within a few days, Kamm was informed.

Commemorate Joe Kirkwood's Great Golf Shot

SAN ANTONIO, April 2.—The greatest golf shot ever made in Texas is commemorated by a monument erected here.

The shot was executed by Joe Kirkwood during the Texas Open, when he hooked his tee shot into the rough trying to avoid a water hazard. His ball stopped six inches from a tree, and jungle obscured the green ahead.

Kirkwood, his back to the hole, slammed a No. 3 iron at right angles. The ball zoomed in a semi-circle out across the water and curved to the green, where it rolled dead to the cup for a birdie.

UMPIRE PARKER IN SERIOUS CONDITION

SAVANNAH, Ga., April 2.—(UP)—George Parker, National league baseball umpire, was in serious condition in a hospital here today from injuries suffered in an automobile accident near Hardenville, Ga., yesterday.

Parker's left leg was broken and a collarbone was fractured. The accident occurred when Parker's car was sideswiped by a truck and thrown into a ditch.

Brea-Olinda Wins From Two Teams

Brea-Olinda high school won a three-cornered track meet from San Juan Capistrano and Laguna Beach at Brea yesterday, making 80 1-2 points in the "A" division to Capistrano's 22 1-2 and Laguna's 12.

OPTIONS TO BE SOLD: OPENING DATE APRIL 10

Dog racing—every night in the week except Sunday—begins here a week from Friday, with the purchase of two-dollar "options" on every race an added feature.

Headed by R. B. Rawlings, who operates the Rio Grande Kennel club near El Paso, Tex., a group of breeders and sportsmen has leased the track at the old Orange County Fair grounds, which was opened last May by the American Legion Drum and Bugle corps.

The plant is being equipped with an overhead lighting system. A corps of workmen already is busy fencing the course and otherwise preparing for the "grand reopening," which will offer a card of at least eight races. Some of the finest dog flesh on the coast will be shipped here, according to Rawlings, who will serve as superintendent. Many Texas breeders will send kennels, he added.

Racing will start at 8 o'clock each evening. Weekly cards call for eight races, with ten every Saturday night.

The track will be known officially as Orange County Downs. The illumination system is equipped with 60 lights of 500-watt.

"We propose to give Orange county the best there is in dog racing," declared Rawlings. "We already have engaged the services of Leo Quinn as presiding judge and steward. That alone is enough to insure the closest observation of all races and guarantee the honesty of the track. The rest of the staff will be picked accordingly."

The purchase of "options" will be possible through a system devised and copyrighted by Robert (Bob) Walker of Santa Ana, Rawlings explained.

Poor Gil Dobie; His Salary Next Season Is $22,500

BOSTON, April 2.—Gil Dobie, the gloomy guy who resigned the head football coaching job at Cornell University and was picked up by Boston College, probably will be the highest-paid mentor in the game this fall.

Dobie will receive $12,500 from Cornell in his contract that has one year to run, and $10,000 from the local institution, bringing him $22,500 for the season.

LE MON WILLING TO FIGHT FRI. WINNER

Bob Singleton, Lupe LeMon's handler, today informed Promoter Sam Sampson that LeMon would be ready to meet the winner of tomorrow night's heavyweight battle between Sailor "Buck" Kimball and Cannonball Eddie Chapman within the next week or two and not later than three weeks from tomorrow night.

Chapman and Kimball headline the Orange County Athletic club's 10-bout amateur fight card tomorrow night.

Promoter Sam Sampson will follow the Kimball-Chapman card with Lupe Cordoza in the main event next week, and the Sherman Indians dominating the April 17 program.

Friday night's program also shows Freddie Hunt vs. Walter Green; Maxie Moore vs. Carl Booth; Dick Lemis vs. Badger Diaz; Raoul Solis vs. Mike Reyes; Paul Saucedo vs. Larry Thomas; "Frenchy" Jure vs. Sammy Vasquez; Buck Durbin vs. Tino Munoz; Ken Holiday vs. Jack Taylor and Joe Orona vs. Sailor Burke.

ACTIVITY HERE IN BUILDING IS REVEALED

Private construction of buildings in Santa Ana for the first three months of 1936 has swept far out in front of the 1935 record for the same period, records on file today at the city building department, reveal, and while a lull in building resulted during the last few days of March, the month of April in construction work, began lustily yesterday with issuance of permits for buildings valued at $23,024, a one-day record which has not been equaled for a long time.

And this morning, requests for permits began early, again, as Emmett C. Rogers was granted one for construction of a $3500 residence and garage, frame and stucco, at 1308 North Bristol, thus making the valuation of buildings to be constructed at once through April permits to date, $26,524.

Yesterday Dr. R. S. Wade was granted permit for construction of a 17-room, 53x38-foot medical clinic building at 801-803 Bush street, at cost of $6474. Contractor John Tschirner will be in charge of construction. Other permits granted yesterday were to Jasper Parney, builder and owner, of a $3400 residence, with garage, frame and stucco, at 2461 Riverside drive, for $9000; to Walter Zimmerman, owner, and Joe Hancock, builder, of a $7336 residence, with garage, frame and stucco, at 1928 Greenleaf, for $7500, and to E. A. Davidson, 410 East Camille, of alteration to private garage at his place, for $50.

For the first three months of 1936, private building permits issued were for buildings valued at

JOE CLEVER TO SANTA BARBARA SPEND MONTHS IN HOSPITAL OF SAFETY CUP

By MALCOLM BOSTWICK

There are vacations and vacations. And the one which is in Joe Clever's repertoire, we hope we never are forced to experience.

Clever, member of the Orange county squad of the California highway patrol, who has spent most of the last two years of active duty, in the office at the courthouse, issuing license plates, operators' licenses and answering questions, left this week on his half-month's vacation. But it will extend to more than six months before he's through with it, his doctor "friends" advise him.

Clever was in Sacramento almost precisely two years ago—April 11, 1934, to be exact—was there to take one of the customary courses required for all state highway patrolmen. During a moment when a tear gas gun was being demonstrated, Clever got some of the gas in his eyes and fell down nine steps of stairs. He broke his right hip.

On April 13, 1936, Clever enters Good Samaritan hospital, Los Angeles, and on April 14, Dr. John C. Wilson, Los Angeles physician and surgeon who's a native of Santa Ana, will take a long, sharp knife and will cut a piece of first-class bone from Clever's leg and will transplant or graft it to Clever's hip. Dr. Wilson has a reputation worth noting. He knows his bones. But who wants to undergo as a vacation, what Clever's going to undergo in an effort to restore his right leg to usefulness? Clever must stay in the hospital for three months after the operation and must remain away from his official duties for at least six months, mostly "off that leg." Dr. Wilson, all of Joe's friends hope you will "do your stuff."

PINCH ENDS 50-YEAR TIE
BERKELEY, Cal.—(UP)—After 50 years of wedded bliss, Mrs. Bella F. Shelby, 70, has asked divorce from Benjamin F. Shelby, 72, on the grounds that he pinched her at a funeral. His idea, she declares, was to cut short her period of mourning.

Santa Barbara county, safest "haven" for motorists in California, has just been honored by award to its California highway patrol unit of the State Chamber of Commerce trophy, presented annually for reduction of highway deaths. E. Raymond Cato, chief of the highway patrol, announced today.

Santa Barbara county has an enviable record. While most other counties were rolling up grim records in 1935 traffic fatalities, over 1934, Santa Barbara county was being credited with a 1935 decrease of 24 deaths over the 1934 record. Alameda county ranked second in reduction of deaths on rural highways, listing 17 fewer fatalities in 1935 than in 1934. Kern county was third, 15 fewer deaths; Stanislaus, fourth, 13; San Joaquin, fifth, 12; and San Luis Obispo, sixth, 10.

Yes, you guessed it—Orange county showed an increase in deaths for 1935 over 1934. The increase total was 6. Los Angeles county had the greatest increase in rural highway fatalities in 1935, recording 36 more than in 1934. San Diego county, according to Chief Cato, was second in the rating of black marks, with increase of 20 deaths; Yolo county was third, 12 increase, and Santa Clara, Tulare and Ventura counties shared fourth place with 11 more deaths each. San Francisco county, having no rural highways, and Alpine, Contra Costa and Tehama counties, listed no changes in the traffic fatality record in 1935 as compared with 1934.

The other "black" and "white" counties are listed by Chief Cato, as follows, comparing 1935 and 1934:

"White" or decrease, in 1935—San Bernardino, 9; Sacramento, 9; Mariposa, 8; Lake, 7; Imperial, 7; San Mateo, 7; Butte, 6; Shasta, 5; Inyo, 5; Santa Cruz, 5; Placer, 5; Mendocino, 4; Napa, 4; Humboldt, 3; Siskiyou, 3; San Benito, 2; Colusa, 2; Glenn, 2; Trinity, 2; and Del Norte, El Dorado and Sierra, one each.

"Black", or increase, in 1935—

TWO LEADING M-G-M STARS

Joan Crawford

Norma Shearer

TEST DIRECTOR FOR M-G-M COMING TO SANTA ANA SOON TO DIRECT FUTURE STARS

Have you a photographic personality?

If you have, you are very fortunate indeed, and if you haven't, you are no more out of luck than hundreds—yes, thousands of others, for we all cannot have photographic personalities, according to C. Edward Carrier, test director for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, who is coming to this city soon to direct the filming of screen and voice tests of Santa Ana girls and children.

"The strange thing about photographic personalities is that very often people who have them are not aware of it," declares this test director of the greatest motion picture company in the world today.

"Sometimes," he says, "a person with a charming personality off the screen fails to have a personality on the silver sheet. And, usually, a person with a 'photographic personality' has very little personality off the screen."

That should come as welcome news to many of the girls enrolled or planning to enroll for the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer voice and screen opportunity tests, sponsored here by The Daily Register and the Fox-Broadway theater.

For it means most decisively that everyone—regardless of their on-the-surface charm, personality and appearance—has an equal chance. For no one knows what the eye of the camera will reveal.

"The camera," says Mr. Carrier, "is a most unusual black box that executes strange tricks. It catches that spiritual something about a person the eye cannot see; it shows us up in an entire different and new light—a side of ourselves we perhaps never knew before."

"Take, for example, Norma Shearer. Miss Shearer has a most charming personality off the screen, and one as equally charming on, but the two are as different as night and day. On the screen Miss Shearer has that 'spiritual something'—I'll have to call it that for lack of a better name. It is really undefinable."

"Now, off the screen, Miss Shearer's personality is wholly magnetic. It attracts and breeds confidence entirely different than that of her screen or 'photographic personality'."

"The same thing is true of Joan Crawford, Jean Harlow, Madge Evans, Una Merkel, and many other Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer players. But aside from that, the important feature of Mr. Carrier's opinion, insofar as entrants for voice and and Hal Roach, world-famous producer of "Our Gang" comedies.

These awards consist of a three-months contract and a trip to the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios for the winning girl, and there she will be given an opportunity of making good in the movies, and a three-months contract to play in "Our Gang" comedies for Hal Roach for the lucky American youngster.

Any girl or kiddie residing in or near this city is eligible to enroll for a screen and voice test. Girls must be between the ages of 18 and 28, and the children between the ages of three and twelve.

All you have to do is clip out the application blank appearing in this issue, paste it on the back of a good photograph, and mail it to Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Screen Test Editor, The Daily Register.

Applications mailed after midnight April 6th, will not be considered by the judges, so better hurry!

TOM MCFADDEN CANDIDATE FOR STATE SENATE

Thomas L. McFadden, prominent attorney of Anaheim and Placentia, today formally announced his candidacy for State Senator from Orange county. McFadden will seek election to the post held for many years by Senator Nelson T. Edwards of Orange, who has declined to become a candidate for re-election.

In announcing his candidacy McFadden said that his decision to seek the Republican nomination at the August primaries, was reached only after a careful study of the office, its duties and responsibilities.

McFadden was born in Orange county and has lived the greater part of his life in Placentia, where he now makes his home and owns several citrus properties. He was educated in the public schools of Orange county and graduated from the Stanford University Law school in 1902. From 1903 until 1912, he practiced law in Bellingham, Wash., and was city attorney there for four years.

In 1920 he became associated with H. G. Ames, now a judge in the superior court, in the practice of law in Anaheim, where he now maintains his office. At present he is attorney for the City of Placentia.

Owning citrus properties in the county McFadden, according to his friends, is vitally interested in the agricultural problems of the county. Through his service as city attorney for Placentia he has become acquainted with the many problems confronting the municipalities.

McFadden is active in civic and fraternal affairs, serving at present, as Exalted Ruler of the Anaheim Lodge of Elks and District Deputy of the Southern District of that order. He is also president of the Orange County Bar association and Anaheim Rotary club.

CIVIL SERVICE OFFICERS HERE FRIDAY NIGHT

Several civil service officials will address a meeting of Orange county employees, called for 7:30 p. m. Friday in department three of superior court, when the proposal to place county officials and employees under civil service will be discussed.

L. W. Husted, president of the California Federation of Civil Service associations, which is sponsoring the proposed amendment in the state, will be one of the leaders of the discussion.

Other speakers will include Glenn McMeekin, secretary and examiner of the Civil Service commission of Long Beach; and Civil Service Commissioner Lynn Ballard, of Long Beach.

Monterey, 9; Sutter, 7; Orange, Mono and Fresno, 6 each; Calaveras, 4; Sonoma and Yuba, 3 each; Riverside, Amador, Lassen, Madera, Marin, Plumas and Solana, 2 each; Kings, Merced, Modoc, Nevada and Tuolumne, one each.

The year, 1935, beat 1934, however, in recording fewer total traffic deaths in California by 25. In 1935, 1391 were killed on California rural highways; in 1934, 1416.

"The majority—78.5 percent—of rural highway fatalities occurred between intersections on the open road in 1935," Chief Cato said. "Intersections were the scene of 212, or 15.24 per cent, of the 1935 fatalities, and railroad crossings, bridges and piers, etc., were the places for 24 deaths resulting from automobile accidents. A total of 966 deaths in 1935 occurred on arteries of the state highway system and 425 on county roads."

Two Star Points Join In Giving Party For Officers

Santa Ana chapter O. E. S. officers and their wives or husbands were guests at a prettily-appointed party last night when Mrs. Don C. Edwards and Mrs. Osborne Holmes, two of the Star points, joined as hostesses in the latter's home, 1220 South Ross street.

Since the date was April 1, the hostesses introduced a novel way of selecting the winners in the evening's card play. Mrs. Al Adrain and Courtney Chandler, who really scored high, were consoled. All scores of the evening were totaled, and first prizes rewarded Miss Elizabeth Roehm and Glenn Lyan for average scores. The former received a pottery cake plate and server, and the latter, a red cigarette box.

Plum blossoms, scarlet sweet peas and other bright-hued flowers brightened rooms of the home for the occasion. A pastel theme was introduced at the refreshment hour, when dessert was served at small tables centered with flowers. Mr. Edwards and Mr. Holmes assisted in serving.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edwards and Mr. and Mrs. Holmes included Worthy Matron Mrs. John Bruns, with Mr. Bruns; Associate Matron Mrs. Max Gowdy, with Mr. Gowdy; Associate Patron Carlisle Dennis, and Mrs. Dennis; Associate Patron Courtney Chandler and Mrs. Chandler; Messrs. and Mesdames W. C. McFarren, Glenn Lyan, Al Adrain, T. S. Hunter, John Garthe, C. E. Morse, Harvey Dimmitt, Nelson Smith, A. E. Chast; Miss Elizabeth Roehm, Mrs. Sue Henry.

Scout Leaders Plan Spring Activities

Girl Scout leaders planned activities of the near future when they met early this week for dinner in the Little House on South Parton street.

Miss Marion Parsons had planned and prepared the dinner, which was suitable for Girl Scouts to include on their camping trip menus. Present with Miss Parsons were Mesdames George Ames, Herbert Rankin, Lyle Kelly and R. Russick.

Plans were made to make an overnight stay in Modjeska's canyon April 14.

Church Societies

Lenten Luncheon

Coming as the last of a series of Lenten luncheons under auspices of Episcopal Church of Mesdames Women's Auxiliary was yesterday's event in parish hall. There were 80 guests.

St. Elizabeth's Guild took charge of the luncheon, which was prepared and served by Mesdames William Wollaston, Charles Swanner, Roy Vincent and Rolland McCalla. Table decorations and serving were in charge of Mesdames Ira Mercier, William Wade, Adelaide Lowe, Jack Crawford.

Women's Auxiliary held a regular meeting in the afternoon, with the president, Miss Minnie Besser presiding. James Workman talked on "Criminology," substituting for Frank Besser, who was called out of town. Mrs. E. F. Museus discussed "Church Education."

M. E. Missionary

When members of First M. E. Home Missionary society met yesterday afternoon in the church parlors, it was to be greeted by an array of colorful blossoms, with an especially lovely grouping of pale yellow ranunculuses to center the lace spread table with its tea service in the same spring color.

News of the various projects of the society was brought by Mrs. W. B. Snow, Mrs. George W. Townsend and Mrs. Ella Motry. Mrs. S. M. Davis called attention to bills pending to control the blue-booking of motion pictures. Special program features opened with two solos by Mrs. Edward H. Burns, "Thoughts" and "A Friend." Miss Verna Ramsey of Santa Ana Public Library, was introduced as speaker and reviewed the last part of the book "Toward a Christian America" in comprehensive manner. She summarized the early colonization of the country, the development of the church's work among Indians, Negroes and aliens as they have settled in different states, and listed activities along medical, educational and community lines.

Books recommended by Miss Ramsey for further reading on the subject were "Christian Missions and a New World Culture" (A. G. Baker); "Social Salvation" (John Coleman Bennett); Ex-President Hoover's committee report on "Recent Social Trends," "Statesmanship and Religion" (Henry A. Wallace), and "Chinatown Quest" (Carroll Wilson).

A delightful social hour followed, when the tea table came into prominence, with Mrs. G. C. Scarvie and Mrs. George P. Ames pouring tea. One of the pleasant features was the presentation of corsage bouquets to the society's perpetual members, in a special recognition service.

Spring Fever in the news

No doubt of it now—the open season for Spring Fever is upon us. The first robin has been duly acknowledged, crickets are tuning up, and the advertising columns of this paper are full of news about gayer things to wear and do and eat and enjoy.

Even a shut-in can follow the rhythm of the seasons by reading the advertisements. The first ad for white shoes is as sure a sign of Spring as the first tulip. Soon you'll be seeing in these pages what you dare leave off on the beach this Summer, and hearing what new sunburn lotion will guard the exposed areas.

You'll be buying Springy things off and on for several weeks. Chart your shopping course carefully, wisely, by following the advertisements from day to day. Compare values, select styles, make up your mind before you start the leg work from store to store. You'll save money — and have more time to enjoy the nice weather.

Under provisions of the ordinance the planning commission will have nine members, with three of them being city officials. All members of the committee will be named by Mayor Frank Champion.

It was indicated last night that other cities with similar groups will be asked to assist in getting the program into operation. than I could do. Is the headache gone?"

"Toby nodded. 'I'm feeling fine now,' she said. 'She didn't look as though she were feeling fine, by any means, but Harriet was too concerned with her own affairs to notice. 'Clyde's coming tonight,' she exclaimed jubilantly. 'I found a letter from him when I came in. He's going to get in town about 5 o'clock and he's coming to take me to dinner. I don't know whether to wear my green dress or that new black one—'

"Wear the black one," Toby advised. "It makes you look as though you'd just stepped off a ritz magazine cover."

"All right, if you say so. Listen, Toby, I wish you'd come with us! Clyde knows a lot of men. I know he'd be glad to call one of them to go along."

"No," Toby said hastily. "Some other time, maybe, but not tonight."

"But, honestly, I think it would do you good. You've been in the house so much lately."

"I just don't feel like it, Harriet. I'd rather not."

"Well—maybe you'll change your mind later," Harriet suggested. She eyed her roommate uncertainly. "Something was the matter with Toby; she hadn't been a bit like herself lately. Harriet suspected it had something to do with Tim Jamieson. He'd given Toby such a rush for a while. Now he was gone and Toby didn't seem to want to talk about where he was or when he'd be back. All she had said was that he was out of town. Harriet was inclined to hope he was, and that he would stay there. Anyone who made Toby look so miserable was good riddance!"

It was half an hour later that the telephone rang. Harriet answered and then, lowering the instrument, put a hand over the receiver. "It's for you, Toby," she said.

"For me?" The words were the barest echo of the words in Toby's heart. "Tim was calling at last!"

She took the telephone and said, "Hello."

But it was not Tim who answered. For an instant Toby didn't understand the voice on the wire. She only knew it wasn't Tim's voice. There was a pause, and then she heard herself speaking. She said, trying to stifle her disappointment. "Oh, Bill—how are you?"

It was odd that she hadn't recognized Bill Brand's voice. Only she had been so sure—so very sure it would be Tim. Toby suddenly realized how long it had been since she had seen Bill. Almost two weeks, except for a brief encounter on the street. Until lately she'd seen Bill two and three times each week.

He said, "Oh, I'm getting along all right. How's America's most popular advertising model?"

Toby laughed. "Something about the way Bill said things almost always made you want to laugh. 'I really don't know, Bill,' she said. 'Is she an acquaintance of yours?'"

"I'll say she is. Toby Ryan her name is. Skinny little thing, about as big as a minute. Maybe you've heard of her?"

"Never," Toby was emphatic. "But if I ever do see her, I'll remember she's a friend of yours."

"That's right. Give her a break

She deserves it. And, by the way, how about giving me one? I haven't seen you in a room's age. Don't you think it's about time we went down to the old cafeteria where they have the corned beef and cabbage? Or, if you'd like something fancier, I might even be able to manage that. Not too fancy, of course."

"Toby's voice was regretful. 'I'd like to Bill—but I'm afraid I can't tonight.'"

"Some other boy friend ahead of me, huh? You're certainly getting to be a popular girl, Toby."

"I really do want to see you, Bill. Call me again, won't you?"

"Well, from where I'm sitting, it looks very much as though I would. And I hope I have better luck. So long, Toby."

"So long, Bill."

She put down the telephone. Harriet busily manuevering her nails, looked up. "Was that the Bill you introduced me to?" she asked. "The one we met on the street that day?"

"Yes, Bill Brand."

"Hm. Nice sort of fellow. I thought, if it wasn't for Clyde I might try to give you a little competition."

"Bill's one of the nicest people in the world," Toby assured her. "Hm." There may have been an answer on the tip of Harriet's tongue, but if there was, she kept it to herself.

Clyde Sabin telephoned later and then arrived at the apartment. He wasn't at all the sort of person Toby had expected him to be. In the first place, he was older—well into the 30's, surely. From Toby's 19 that seemed middle-age. Harriet was 22.

Sabin was tall and broad-shouldered and very well tailored. Not at all handsome, but rather nice-looking. And he certainly tried to be pleasant. Toby thought perhaps he tried a little too hard. Maybe that was the reason she didn't feel at ease with him. She couldn't think of any other reason, couldn't.

Sabin repeated Harriet's invitation for Toby to join them for the evening. "Let me call up Tom Garfield," he said. "I know he'd be glad to come along. Tom's a nice fellow, too. You'll like him."

But Toby made it plain that she preferred to stay in, and when the others saw she meant it they gave up their urging.

They left finally and Toby went to the window and looked out. Dark had settled over the street; in half an hour it would be dark. Already Manhattan's electrical splendor was in evidence, though Toby could not see it. Nearby buildings, bleak, unlighted, closed in about her. They assumed grotesque, menacing outlines.

Toby turned her back on them and walked from the window. Downstairs a radio had begun to play a tune she had often danced with Tim. The music was being broadcast from some place where there was gaiety and laughter, soft lights, couples dancing as she and Tim had danced.

A sudden sense of loneliness swept over her. Why had she insisted on remaining at home tonight? Why hadn't she gone out with Harriet and Clyde Sabin? Or with Bill?

Yet she knew, even as she asked the question, why she had not gone. She was waiting to hear from Tim.

FLOOD CONTROL

The Flood Control bill before the Committee of the U. S. Senate is of the utmost importance to people in Orange County. As we understand it, the proposition is that the federal government, through the direction of the Army, will erect flood control dams on the Santa Ana River and on other streams, as reported in Wednesday's Register. The counties will be obliged to furnish only the sites for the project. This will be an immense saving over the former plans of building flood control for which the issuing of bonds was voted on and defeated.

The question, of course, that interests Orange County is where the dam will be built on the Santa Ana River. If the judgment of the Army officers will determine where the dam is to be built, it is pretty generally believed by those who have made a study of the merits of the different sites, that they will decide for the Prado site instead of the Jurupa. While the Jurupa is tentatively provided for in the bill, whether or not this is mandatory is of the utmost importance. According to Congressman Collins, it is not; he states a hearing will be held later and the site determined by the Army engineers.

It is contended that the Jurupa site would store only sixty million acre feet, while the proposed Prado site would store one hundred eighty million acre feet. The difference would, undoubtedly, cause the Prado site to be selected.

If the sites are to be purchased, no one seems to know how the cost will be apportioned among the different counties benefiting. At any rate, however, it would be a great saving to the citizens of Orange County, compared to what the former projects would have cost.

It is a question that should be thoroughly studied and watched by the officials of Orange County who have the water conservation in charge.

ANTIQUATED MATHEMATICS

There is a touch of understanding in Dr. William Reeve's recent attack on the teaching of mathematics in the United States. Dr. Reeve, head of the mathematics department of Teachers College, Columbia University, is fed up with "eighteenth century" instruction in this field.

Says the professor: "Of what use is factoring in this world or the next? Wentworth has filled pages with such obsolete stuff as 'X-squared plus 5X plus 6,' as if it made any difference.

"Moreover," he warns, "it's time to quit hiring football coaches to teach mathematics as a side line. And it's time to quit hiring German teachers, who couldn't teach German any more, to teach mathematics.

"You can't teach what you don't know, and stupid teaching and obsolete books keep 75 per cent of the math students of the United States from knowing what it is all about."

Looking back on your own experiences, can't you agree that the doctor is right?

BIG SHIPS—CHEAP TRAVEL

Down they go to the sea in ships, the French a year ago with the gigantic Normandie, and now the British with the Queen Mary. There appears no end to the ambitious dreams of the shipbuilders.

Thus ocean transportation is coming into a new era of ultra-luxury, speed, and finesse. The competition is keen.

No sooner had the great Queen Mary found its way down the 15-mile channel of the river Clyde from Glasgow to the sea, than the French were shouting new plans for their Normandie.

Many tons have been added to her superstructure, they say, so that the Normandie still can claim the title of the biggest ship afloat.

What does all this mean to the sea-going traveler of modest means? Just this. The competition for ocean supremacy started a race for business that has effected material reductions in fares. Thanks to the Normandie, the Europa and the Queen Mary, you can travel to Europe for much less.

And in these terms it is easy to appreciate the progress of shipbuilding.

STATE SUPREME COURT PRORATE DECISION

The State Supreme Court's sustaining of an injunction from the enforcing of the prorate in the distribution of lemons is a decision of much importance to the people of California and the rest of the nation. The ruling practically makes void the power of the State to enforce the prorate in lemon marketing. If the State has no authority to enforce the prorate in lemons, of course, it will have no authority to enforce it in oranges.

While the prorate might be temporarily helpful to the citrus industry, if it maintains profits that are inviting to other capital, it is thus only delaying competition. Prorates could not be worked with crops that could be produced in the year of planting. Citrus crops take several years to develop and it can delay competition. Of course, if any group has a right to combine to restrain production and marketing, all groups have a right to combine. It is a philosophy of scarcity. If all groups combine to keep things scarce and high, in money prices, the inevitable is lower and lower standards of living. This custom, becoming so generally adopted, is one of the reasons why the production for use has gained such a strong following. Certainly, in the long run, it does not add to the general well-being of the great mass of people.

The Clayton Amendment to the Sherman Anti-Trust Law was supposed to be for the benefit of the working class of people. In the final analysis, it hurts the working class of people because it establishes and makes legal "the economy of scarcity."

Invariably, combinations of working men and combinations for the restraint of farm produce, reduce the services or commodities that the great mass of workers use. The items that the rich use are not so often those produced by the ordinary workmen in mass quantities but more often are especially built and made things by artists who do not get the protection of combination for restraint of trade. Thus, the Clayton Amendment, which was one of the first federal laws legalizing an economy of scarcity, has not benefited the workers but, in the long run, has greatly impoverished them.

When people learn that every man's wages or every man's profit is a part of someone else's living costs, they will then come to believe that profits and wages should be based on the benefits performed to the consumer and should not be dependent upon the ability of the producers or the workers to combine to make things scarce in order to penalize the consumer.

Undoubtedly, the United States Supreme Court will eventually pass on the prorate. While the Clayton Amendment makes combinations for restraint of trade legal, as far as agricultural combinations are concerned, it is very doubtful whether any state has the right to coerce, by law, every citizen to enter the combination. This, it is pretty generally believed, is a violation of the Fourteenth Amendment wherein it is stated: "Nor shall any state deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law."

DOES IT MEAN STATE SOCIALISM?

President Roosevelt, in his last message to Congress, asking for a billion and a half dollars for made-work, offered the following statement: "Frankly there is little evidence that employers, by individual and un-coordinated action, can absorb large numbers of new employees."

This statement contradicts his former statements claiming we are well on the way to prosperity and it did not "just happen," but was planned. It would seem that Roosevelt is admitting by this declaration that he believes frankly in State Socialism; that he believes there is practically no difference in men; that those people who have never added personally to the national wealth of the country will be able to add more rapidly to the national wealth of the country if management of production is turned over to them as Government officials. This is what the Government of Mexico is now doing. It is rapidly approaching State Socialism. Just the other day the telegraph wires carried a story that the cost of living had increased from 13 to 25 per cent since February 17th.

If the brain trusters would leave individual enterprises free and unrestricted, to produce, and confine the activities of the Government to preventing individuals from combining to restrain production and increase prices, and would not retard production by taxation, and would give protection to life and property, to initiative, there would be plenty of employment and good wages. This is the only way, in all history, by which there has ever been plenty of employment at good wages. It seems to be necessary to learn the hard way, what we should learn from observation of others.

Friendship consists in forgetting what one gives and remembering what one receives.

Day By Day In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright, 1935)

WASHINGTON, April 2.—What the supreme court did this week in refusing to hear the Burco case involving constitutionality of the public utility holding company act carries with it considerable significance.

The headlines called it a "New Deal victory." To the extent that the department of justice asked that the case be not heard and the court agreed may it be said to be anything of that kind. Actually, the district court and the circuit court of appeals declared the holding company law was invalid as applied to this particular litigation and since the department of justice did not ask for any reversal of that judgment, the decision of the lower courts stand.

As a matter of fact, the department of justice was not directly concerned with the merits of the so-called Burco case at all, being content to state on behalf of the securities and exchange commission that the constitutional question was not clearly and adequately presented, and that in another case now in the district court there would be a better opportunity for a consideration of all the constitutional questions.

The supreme court did not disclose its reasons for refusing to go any further with the Burco case, but it may be presumed that the court does not wish to decide the question of constitutionality of any law unless the matter has been adequately argued in the lower courts and unless the government's side has been fully presented. Certainly it would have created a controversy of a very unhappy kind if a law as important as the public utility holding company act were to be declared invalid while the government contended it had not had a chance to argue the case through the lower courts.

But it is to be noted that the government could have appeared in the Burco case and could have argued the merits of the constitutional question. As a matter of fact, all those New Deal supporters who have been saying that America's constitutional system is too slow or that advisory opinions ought to be rendered or that enormous economic loss is caused by the slow processes of the judiciary have now been stripped of their argument. For while the Burco case may not be exactly to the taste of the SEC, it did afford a basis for a quick test if the New Deal really wanted a test.

The reasons why the New Deal delays a test on constitutionality cannot be determined accurately, of course, but judging by talk in New Deal circles, the plain inference is that the longer the greater are the chances of Mr. Roosevelt having a supreme court favorable to his viewpoint either through possible vacancies or through the application of the oft-repeated but mistaken theory that "the court follows the election returns."

The test case chosen by the New Deal on the validity of the holding company law is still in the district court and attempts are being made to agree on stipulations of fact. The chances are that the case will not be argued till late spring and a decision may not be available till the summer. Then the matter will be taken to the circuit court of appeals and possibly all of next autumn and winter will be consumed on it, with the prospect that a year from now the supreme court of the United States will be handing down a decision.

Meanwhile the big utility industry is required to wait till its rights are determined, large refinancing operations are delayed, and construction activities that would give work to many unemployed are held back.

The layman will wonder why the New Deal objected to the hearing of the Burco case in the supreme court at this time or why the government refused to defend the act in the lower courts, though inviting to do so. For apart from the particular issues raised in the Burco case by the reorganization proceedings of a utility holding company, the supposition naturally is that the supreme court of the United States to argue the constitutionality of an important law would have been welcomed, no matter how the case got into the lower court in the first instance.

KEYS

Pulling a big bunch of keys out of your pocket makes you look almost as important as you feel, even if half of them don't really belong to you and you don't know what keyholes the other half are supposed to fit.

This proves it may be wrong to judge by appearances but it makes life more mysterious.

Every house has a cigar box full of all size old keys in case one of them might happen to fit an empty keyhole, only it never does.

Fellows generally aren't aloud to have their own door key until they get long pants, and even that don't prevent their mother from starting to look out the front window as it starts to get a little late.

This proves ladies wouldn't feel mature if there was never any need to worry about.

If everybody in the world was honest and respectable there wouldn't be any more use for keys to open locks with or for keyholes to lock through.

It is less inconvenient to be locked out than what it is to be locked in, on account of there being more places to go.

In the old fashion days of castles and dungeons keys used to be grate big things that couldn't go through a hole in your pocket for the simple reason that they would not even go in your pocket, but nowadays on account of science and inventions they are little smooth things that are often lost but seldom swallowed.

What Other
Editors SayTHE LABOR DISPUTES ACT
From New York Times

From the day when the Wagner Labor Disputes Act became law it was obvious that it would itself create confusion and dispute. It defined the phrase "affecting commerce," for example, much more broadly than did the unanimous Supreme Court decision in the Schechter case. Even if the act were not invalidated for that reason, therefore, it was clear that its effect would be to give rise to endless lawsuits, for few employers were likely to accept the jurisdiction which the National Labor Relations Board was in fact claiming. The board has in fact claimed jurisdiction over "industries engaged predominantly in interstate commerce," while individual firms affected have held that the board could control their relations only with those particular employees, if any, engaged "directly" in interstate commerce.

Another major cause of disagreement has been the provision that an employer cannot "refuse to bargain collectively" with his employees. It would be difficult to find a more ambiguous crucial clause in a major law. In his decision in the Federal District Court at Chicago, holding the Wagner act unconstitutional in its entirety, Judge Barnes struggles with the meaning of this clause. He supposes a case in which, in an election ordered by the NLRB, one union has won a narrow majority over another. Suppose now that the victorious union wishes the employer to sign an agreement for a closed shop (such agreements are explicitly recognized as legal in the Wagner law), which would compel him to discharge all the workers who refused or were not invited to join the victorious union. Could the employer "bargain indefinitely" without any good faith intention of entering into such an agreement? No, answers Judge Barnes: "One cannot be said to bargain for the purchase of a house if he has a settled determination never to buy a house on any terms." But the compulsion to bargain applies to only one of the contracting parties—the employer. The representatives of the employees "are at liberty to reject any suggestion" he may make, "regardless of how reasonable it may be." Therefore, "the employer must eventually enter into a closed-shop agreement."

Judge Barnes concludes, under this line of reasoning, that this "compulsory unilateral arbitration" constitutional rights, and that the act as a whole is in violation of the Tenth Amendment.

The Supreme Court, in due time, may or may not sustain this reasoning. But as long as the Wagner act, with its uncertain and ambiguous application, is allowed to stand, it will tend to increase rather than to "diminish the causes of labor disputes," it declared aim.

Thoughts On Modern Life

BY GLENN FRANK

NATIONALIZING THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

Those Americans who live in the District of Columbia have no votes in national affairs.

The idea back of this provision is that citizens with so direct and selfish a stake in the expansion of the federal government, should not be in position to bring improper and compelling pressure upon congress.

Now that the role of the federal government is expanding so rapidly, now that federal activities reach into every nook and corner of the nation, now that the direct beneficiaries of federal activity and federal spending mount into millions multiplied, an interesting situation arises in which a large army of Americans outside the District of Columbia are in very much the same position as the citizens of Washington.

What would happen, some impatient editor has asked, if the law applied to residents of the District of Columbia were applied to the following Americans:

Every holder of a federal job. Every employee of a state government.

Every receiver of relief from the government.

Every beneficiary of a government subsidy.

Suppose every American sustaining such relation to the taxing and spending of government were denied the right to vote.

I suppose the impatient asker of this question did not seriously think it would be seriously considered, but it does, by the very extreme nature of its suggestion, dramatize a dangerous situation.

We have recruited a vast army during the last three and a half years which has selfish reasons, in addition to its honest conviction, for voting for a continuance of programs that fatten its collective purse and drop periodic contributions into its several pockets.

We shall doubtless see the effect of this in 1936.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

THE IMBALANCE D ADOLESCENT

Some boys and girls go through adolescence with little trouble. They are fortunate. The big group have considerable difficulty in making the adjustments to life that this stage of development demands. And there is a small group that become so imbalanced as to require expert medical care. These are often mistaken for bad, wayward, criminal boys and girls. They are ailing and sadly in need of good medical care and the most understanding supervision. Many of them can be restored to happy successful living if the physicians get them in time.

Here is Ransome. He was a good boy until after his thirteenth birthday. Then he began to be a bad boy. He took things that did not belong to him. Not that he needed or wanted them really, but he just took them, and then denied it stoutly.

Then he got very jumpy, did no lessons, failed in school. The doctor and nurse said to keep him out for the rest of the term. During the vacation he grew like a weed, but his conduct was worse than ever. Now he stayed in bed late mornings so his mother could not get him to school on time to save her life. He was very surly and said ugly things to those who spoke to him. He had hysterical tantrums, yelled at the top of his lungs, declaring that he would get even, he would run away, he would do dreadful things, all for no apparent reason.

This went on until he was more than fourteen. His lessons improved so he was promoted, but his behavior at home did not change. Finally his mother could stand no more and fell sick. The doctors who attended her soon found that Ransome needed their attention more than she did. They persuaded her to allow them to take him to the children's hospital and treat him for what ailed him, the imbalance of adolescence. Now he is back at school greatly improved in every way. The doctors still see him weekly, and he is glad of their help. Girls have their difficulties at this time. Some of them are very hard to manage. They seem to be possessed to do what is going to hurt them. They manage to escape the watchful eyes of teachers and mothers and make and keep dates with boys who are the wrong sort. Some of them go in for exaggerated dress, thick rouge and plasters of powder. They want spike heels and evening dresses for school, and in other ways manifest instincts that are almost out of control.

This is no time for talking. These girls need medical care and advice. They do not know what ails them and have little control of themselves. They seem to take to trouble as ducks to water, all unconscious of its meaning and its consequences to themselves. Lose no time in getting these imbalanced children to the specialist who understands their condition. Don't scold them and make them feel they are sinners and criminals. They are battling through a stage of their growth and need help. They need medicine, guidance, new interests and friendly understanding to carry them through this safely.

A skilled psychologist and a trained psychiatrist and a trained psychiatrist for every high school in the land would serve our purpose better than the police and the probation officers. Editor Register:

The depression has set us to thinking; thinking and planning some way out of our condition.

The most popular plan now before the public is the "Townsend Plan." The majority believe this to be the only solution.

We have been blaming over-production, the machine age and the government.

Ask the many millions on relief and investigate and we will soon realize that under consumption is one of our troubles rather than over-production. Some are merely getting along, other skimping, while a lot of us are not meeting needs to maintain a good living.

We know that there is something radically wrong with this country so rich in natural resources, as there is an abundance for every living person, not only to be well-to-do or even rich. If the wealth was rightly or justly distributed the situation would be greatly changed.

We hear of all kinds of solutions for the depression, but so far we are still experiencing hard times, though some say conditions have improved, others say worse. Yet we know these several years of hard times still continue, so the country or the most of it is waiting for the "Townsend Plan" to become a law.

Personally, I believe an old age pension would relieve conditions. A hundred a month and be free to produce, and not take it only in case of necessity so as to eliminate unnecessary idleness.

The money we receive costs someone, just so that is not an injury to anyone, so far as possible we should exchange value received. Anything that will abolish and eliminate selfishness would solve our financial problems, crime problems, war problems, in fact, all questions.

We are reaping what we have sown, for every condition there is somewhere a cause. There is plenty of money, though some of us see very little of it. The circulation of money reveals the condition of minds and characters of people we deal with. We are the producers and distributors of wealth.

Dishonesty and greed which is an outgrowth of selfish people, which is the cause of our distressed condition, or go back further and find that crime, dishonesty and wasted resources on ruinous habits that weaken our efficiency and poison our bodies.

It is evident that we have forsaken Him that gives us abundantly all good things by forsaking the commandments that would enrich us in every way in keeping them.

Let us forget that "whatsoever a man sows that shall he also reap." W. A. WINKLEMAN.
